Fides et Ratio

The final accomplishment would be to know the emptiness of any accomplishment — to have that pleasure at the end of it.

Balances

Believes in sleeps and fakes in wakings we look for footplace and take what we find. It's not much to hold us but we're not much to hold.