

Wayne's World Elite Fitness Training Summer Strength and Conditioning Camp 2017

What is Wayne's World Camp?

Kids and adults will get active, stay active, and even reach the greatest heights of athletic potential if they do the right things at the right time.

Wayne's World Strength and Conditioning Camp takes place in a group setting and is led by instructors and coaches. Our camps provide an introduction to athletic development through training of fundamental movement skills, power development, sprint mechanics, jumping and landing techniques, plyometrics, strength training, speed and agility training, energy system development, and injury prevention.

Who is Wayne's World Camp for?

Our camps are divided into middle school and high school groups. This program is ideal for those who are looking to stay active and improve their athletic performance.

Benefits:

This type of program has a few important benefits:

- Helps athletes become less susceptible to injuries
- Improves athletes' ability to perform technical and tactical skills more successfully
- Allows athletes to handle the demands of their sport

Please take note of the training sessions we will be offering this summer! Registration is required to reserve a spot.

“Strength training is an integral part of becoming a better athlete. Throughout the years, I have proven success with some of the best athletes in the area, and my goal is to continue to do so!! During my ten plus years of strength training, commitment to excellence and results has always been my priority and will continue to be my priority. I will not stop working with my athletes and challenging them every session until they reach their full potential. I still compete because I also feel that I need to be a role model – one who has dedicated his life to fitness” - Wayne

Middle School Athletes

- The goal of the middle school camp is to improve acceleration, change of direction, running mechanics, body weight exercises and begin learning proper technique of basic lifts in the weight room with little to no weight. Boys and girls may have opportunities to train at different times. Other considerations for junior high athletes are core strength, posture, coordination, balance, proper jumping and landing techniques.
