

Study Guide: A Conversation About the Constitution

Thursday, November 12, 2013 | Johnson County Community College | Yardley Hall

WEBSITE RESOURCES

U.S. Government Judicial Structure

<http://www.uscourts.gov/FederalCourts/UnderstandingtheFederalCourts/FederalCourtsStructure.aspx>

U.S. Judiciary Glossary Terms

<http://www.uscourts.gov/Common/Glossary.aspx>

Kansas State Constitution

<http://www.kslib.info/Documents/Constitution.pdf>

United State Constitution

http://www.archives.gov/exhibits/charters/print_friendly.html?page=constitution_transcript_content.html&title=The%20Constitution%20of%20the%20United%20States%3A%20A%20Transcription

Public Broadcasting System, “The Supreme Court”

<http://www.pbs.org/wnet/supremecourt/democracy/index.html>

Public Broadcasting System, “The Supreme Court” (includes an interactive timeline, games, material on Supreme Court history, lesson plans and discussion guide, videos, bios of chief justices, landmark cases, and more).

First Amendment Center at Vanderbilt University and the Newseum

<http://www.firstamendmentcenter.org/>

Official website for the First Amendment Center at Vanderbilt University and the Newseum. The website states, in part: “Founded by John Seigenthaler” [who, as you may know, was a member of Robert Kennedy’s staff in the Justice Department of the JFK administration] “the First Amendment Center is an operating program of the Freedom Forum and is associated with the Newseum and the Diversity Institute. The center has offices in the John Seigenthaler Center at Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tenn., and at the Newseum in Washington, D.C.” (includes web pages focusing on Speech, Press, Religion, Assembly and Petition; also includes various blogs and “news and views,” as well as lesson plans, a report on the “State of the First Amendment,” a moot court competition, and more)

St. Mary’s University School of Law

<http://www.michaelariens.com/>

Website for St. Mary’s University School of Law (San Antonio, Tex.) Professor Michael Ariens (includes bios for Supreme Court chief justices and web pages for Constitutional Law, American Legal History, Legal Ethics, Evidence, and Professional Responsibility)

St. Mary’s University School of Law

<http://www.michaelariens.com/>

Anti-Federalist papers

http://www.streetlaw.org/en/landmark/cases/marbury_v_madison#Tab=Teaching http://www.streetlaw.org/en/Page/280/The_Power_of_the_Judicial_Branch_The_Federalist_Number_78_and_the_AntiFederalist_78