

County

Park County Historical Society tours Wellington Lake mining area

Contributed by Pat Mauro
Park County Historical Society

The Park County Historical Society took a field trip to a mining site near Wellington Lake on County Road 68.

The mining site was part of the Consolidated Feldspar Corp., located in Parkdale County.

We met at McGraw Memorial Park, and our entourage drove to the parking area near Windy Peak Outdoor lab (formerly Sylvania of the Rockies). We had to hike to the mine site. The hike was spectacular, as we wound up the hill to the mining site. We passed the remains of one of the buildings, when the Consolidated Mining Co. was in operation, circa 1950-60.

The mining claim owner, Kirk Hilbelink, was our guide. He explained how he has been working the claim for more than five years. We were able to make our way around the pit, which had created a beautiful site itself. A pond is located in the pit, and it's believed there may be some great finds there, but it's been a trick for Kirk to drain it.

The area has many aspen trees, which were shining in their gold attire. Geologist Peter Modreski explained to our group, the many types of geologic formations that created the various types of gems and minerals in the area.

Kirk explained the locations of various digs he's made in the pit, and showed examples of his finds, and how he found them.

We had an enjoyable lunch in the pit area. We made our way around the pit area, to see the various gem/mineral formations that make up the mining area. We hiked back down the hill, and stopped to see the cab of one of the company trucks, which is still on site.

THE EDGE OF THE PIT
The pond at the bottom of the mining pit was formed when a previous owner hit ground water. Current mining claim owner Kirk Hilbelink thinks the best ore might be at the bottom of the water. (Courtesy Photo)

Our group then drove to Estabrook, where we stopped to view the train depot, which is still in use as a residence. We also viewed the railroad bridge, now used as part of the driveway to get over the North Fork of the South Platte River.

The tour continued to the Insmont area, where we were able to view the “witchhat” home, built circa 1900, and was the former residence of former PCHS member/artist Frank Vavra. Frank's artwork hangs in the Bailey Public Library.

This concluded another one of a kind adventure of the Park County Historical Society. Join the society, to keep history alive in Park County. Watch The Flume's Community Corner section for upcoming events or visit www.parkcountyhistory.com.

GOING NOWHERE
Author Pat Mauro sits in the remains of an old truck near the mining claim. (Courtesy Photo)

THE FLUME

The Park County Republican & Fairplay Flume

The Park County Republican and Fairplay Flume (USPS684-550) (ISSN 1085-181X) is published every Friday and is the official newspaper in Park County, Colorado. Our office is located at 5138 Park County Road 64, Bailey, CO.

Periodicals postage paid in Bailey, CO., and additional entry offices.

Postmaster: Send address changes to Park County Republican and Fairplay Flume, P.O. Box 460, Bailey, CO 80421. E-mail: editor@theflume.com

303-838-4423 • 1-866-883-1154 • Fax 303-838-8414

Subscription rates: $37 Park County, $42 Colorado, and $46 outside Colorado.

Multiple year discounts available. Call for pricing.

<http://www.theflume.com>

coloradopress
ASSOCIATION
2015 Member

Member

ARKANSAS VALLEY
PUBLISHING COMPANY

Emily Clingman
Editor
editor@theflume.com

John D. Rankin
Office Manager
info@theflume.com

Debbie Ehlers
Advertising Sales Rep
ads@theflume.com

Walter Newton
Staff Writer
reporter@theflume.com

Lynda James
Senior Correspondent
303-838-4423

Merle Baranczyk
Publisher
merle@avpsalida.com

www.facebook.com/TheFlume

Countywide Correspondents

Matt Adams, Conifer, Bailey; Flip Boettcher, Guffey; Julie Bullock, South Park; Maggie Downare-Nevius, South Park, sports; Tom Greenfield, Bailey news and photos, food recipes; DJ Hannigan, photos; Brian Head, sports columns; Marcey Hodshire, Park County, sheriff's blotter; Tom Hoganson, Plate Canyon Sports; Bernie Nagy, special events; Linda Nagy, Fairplay and beyond; Katie O'Brien, Fairplay; Sonja Oliver, Lake George and beyond; Viv Pershing, Gardening; Mike Quintance, Park County; John D. Rankin, outdoor recreation

Printed on recycled paper

Official Paper of Park County Colorado since 1879 • Dedicated to its Welfare and Progress

Serving Alma, Bailey, Como, Fairplay, Grant, Guffey, Hartsel, Jefferson, Lake George, Pine Junction, Shawnee and the 285 Corridor.