CREATING YOUR FUTURE IN A DIGITAL WORLD
A ONE-DAY WORKSHOP

The digital world is transforming your organisation and your role in it. Boundaries are being flattened—between managers and employees and between companies and their partners and customers.

In this highly interactive learning experience, you’ll learn how to develop the skills you need to lead your organisation or team in this new digital world.

“Companies are beginning to innovate, create value, market and engage with the world in profoundly new ways. The corporation is going through the biggest change in its short history.”

Featuring internationally recognised Australian leaders in the field of organisational creativity and digital innovation:

The collaborative world of “Web 2.0” is rapidly scaling corporate walls—and democratising how business works.

It has moved beyond well-known consumer services such as “MySpace” into the commercial world. Innovative digital technologies are enabling customers, employees, managers and business partners to communicate and share information in new ways. It is moving publishing into participation— and consumption into collaboration.

In this new digital community, the roles and skills of leaders are being transformed.

Leaders now need to understand how to use a range of digital media to interact more creatively and effectively. They also need to understand the business opportunities digital communities are creating for businesses to tap into the actions, contacts and talents of people worldwide.

The Creating Your Future in a Digital World workshop explores these concepts through case study presentations and hands-on technical experience. It will immerse you in practical and applied creativity skills sessions.

What the delegates had to say...

“... The value of feeding the creative thinking into corporate environments will be enormous...”

“... demystifying web 2.0 allows decision makers and innovators to make sound strategic choices...”

“... enjoyed every aspect... very thorough with subjects well tailored together...”

Why does the digital community matter to you and your business?

Who should attend?

Senior and Middle Managers in Strategy, Strategic Thinking, Marketing, Sales, Customer Service and Cultural Change, Small Business Owners and Operators

If it is your responsibility for digital innovation, creativity and leading-edge thinking in your organisation or business, then this workshop will deliver an exciting new perspective on the opportunities for creative leadership in the digital age.

Price $840 incl GST

Recommended

Each organization brings a minimum of two delegates so you can begin a knowledgeable dialogue within your organization with your associates on return to the work place on the digital community.

“...Build a platform - prepare for the unexpected...
...And you'll know you're successful when the platform
you've built serves you in unexpected ways.
That's certainly true of the lessons I've learned in the process of building eBay. Because in the deepest sense, eBay wasn't a hobby. And it wasn't a business. It was - and is - a community: An organic, evolving, self-organizing web of individual relationships, formed around shared interests...”
