Professional Development Committee

Remember....

While we may be entering the "off-season" (if there really is one?), there is always work that can be done to better ourselves as professionals when we may have that extra second or two. Take advantage of the opportunity to pick up a professional or personal development related book, update your resume, or work with your colleagues to learn a little about their trade! All three of these options (plus many more!) can help rejuvenate you throughout the summer by reflecting on personal growth through the last year and get you excited for the start of another year of growth within your organization!

Check out these popular choices!!

- 1.) Start with Why - Simon Sinek
- 2.) Good to Great - Jim Collins
- 3.) DRiVE - Daniel Pink
- 4.) Lean In - Sheryl Sandberg
- 5.) Option B - Sheryl Sandberg
- 6.) Give and Take - Adam Grant
