About The Conductor

René Clausen has been the conductor of The Concordia Choir, Concordia College, Moorhead, Minnesota, since 1986. Prior to this appointment, he served as Director of Choral Activities at West Texas State University, Canyon, Texas, and as assistant professor of choral music at Wichita State University, Wichita, Kansas.

Clausen is a graduate of St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minnesota, and holds the Masters Degree in Conducting Performance from the University of Illinois, where he is currently completing his Doctorate of Musical Arts in Choral Conducting.

In addition to conducting, René Clausen is known throughout the United States as an active composer and clinician. He has written over 30 commissioned works and has led choral workshops in over 30 states. In 1990, Clausen guest conducted The Dale Warland Singers in a recording of his first large work, A New Creation.
