About the Conductor

Peter Bagley, Professor of Music at The University of Connecticut, received his B.S. in Music Education at the Crane School of Music, State University of New York at Potsdam, and his D.M. in Choral Conducting under Julius Herford at Indiana University. He taught public school music in Greenwich, Connecticut, and prior to his appointment as Director of Choral Activities at the University of Connecticut, was Professor of Music at the State University of New York, College at New Paltz.

Dr. Bagley has held summer or part-time appointments at Harvard University, the University of Illinois at Urbana, Marshall University, and the University of Iowa, and has been invited as guest conductor and choral clinician for numerous festivals and all-state choirs throughout the country. Among many engagements, he recently conducted the MENC All-Eastern Division Chorus in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and launched his international career as choral clinician for various choirs in a ten-city tour of New Zealand sponsored by the New Zealand Choral Federation. He was invited to appear as a clinician at the International Choral Symposium in Kansas City, Missouri, and this season he will conduct all-state choirs in Kansas, Missouri, Rhode Island and New York as well as many regional festivals throughout the country.

Dr. Bagley is currently Music Director of the Eastern Connecticut Symphony Orchestra Chorus and was invited to conduct the combined forces in the 1991-92 season. He was responsible for the choral preparation of the University of Connecticut Concert Choir in their collaboration with the Eastern Connecticut Symphony Orchestra in the world premiere recording of Sydney Hodkinson's Missa Brevis, recently released on Centaur Records. He is an active member of the American Choral Directors Association, and was honored in October 1990 by the Connecticut chapter as "...the Connecticut Choral Educator of the Year." He is also active in the American Choral Foundation, Chorus America, The College Music Society, the Connecticut Music Educators Association, the Music Educators National Conference and the National Black Music Caucus.
