

Saint Hilary School

Where faith, family, and academics thrive!

December 12, 2018

Dear Parent/Guardian,

Christmas is a time for cherishing those who bring so many blessings to our lives. May you always believe that Jesus is with you at all times. May you find time to reflect upon the blessings of God. St. Hilary is truly blessed with amazing children and families; know that you are thought of throughout this season of joy.

Please keep our first responders and those in the military in your prayers during this holiday season.

Heavenly Father,

We pray this Christmas season to ask your protection upon those who labor during this special time. We pray you send comfort and warmth to our law enforcement officers, our first responders, and our men and women in uniform, who cannot be with their families tonight. May they have peace, may they encounter kindly faces, and may they keep warm and comfortable. We pray they are able to reflect on this season, its true meaning, and may they feel welcomed to the table you prepare for us in the sight of those who would do us harm. We pray they know our gratitude, that we sleep knowing they stand watch and guard over our homes, our workplaces, and our places of worship. We pray for their safe return to their homes, their loved ones, and their church communities. Oh Lord, we ask your blessing, and we beseech you to be with them in their moment of peril, may your hand protect them, may your justice prevail and thy will be done. God, please bless our officers, our firefighters and first responders. Bless our sailors and troops, and all those who wear the uniform to defend freedom and justice.

We ask this and thank you, in Jesus' name.

Amen.

Safety on social media is a reality that all parents must face and be aware of. Many of our children are very active on social media including instagram and snapchat. The faculty, staff, and I work very hard to embrace a family and community atmosphere at St. Hilary. We need your vigilance to help our students continue this while they are at home. Please take some time over the Christmas break to review your child's social media activity, have a conversation with them about the dangers in what they post, and set some boundaries for these activities. Help us keep our children safe in every sense of the word. Thank you.

Thank you:

I am incredibly thankful to Mr. Carl Chadek and Mr. Mitchell Clark for organizing our 6th Annual St. Hilary School and Parish Christmas Concert. The concert was a huge success and we received numerous compliments on the warm holiday spirit that was felt by everyone who attended. Thank you to all of our amazing children, talented musicians and singers who made this event so memorable.

Thank you for the generous donations that were given at the concert for our music program. These donations will allow us to continue to grow our amazing music program.

Thank you to Mr. Clark and our fabulous choir members who were able to join us to support The Big Shoulders Fund and spread Christmas joy at the Ogilvie Center last week. Thank you to the parents who were able to drive and car pool our way through the downtown traffic so that this could happen.

On Monday some of our CODAs performed at the St. Hilary Women's Club Christmas Party. Thank you to Mr. Chadek for directing our carolers.

Thank you to Mrs. Czuba, Cyan, Cristian, Sebastian and Jacob for serving us wonderful traditional Pilipino foods as we celebrated Simbang Gabi today.

Reminders:

Each family received a pre-registration Intent to Return Form in their Wednesday envelope (another is in today's envelope). Please read the letter attached and return this form to school as soon as possible.

Athletics:

Basketball season is also in full stride. We encourage participation at our games to show our school spirit. The basketball schedule is available on the school website. Also located on the website are the Archdiocesan and St. Hilary Athletic Handbooks. Both handbooks clearly state that students must meet eligibility requirements to play an extracurricular sport. The following two quotes can be found in these handbooks:

"The student must perform satisfactorily in the areas of academic effort, behavior, and attitude."

"The athlete must exhibit academic progress as determined by the classroom teacher(s)."

Teachers have been asked to notify me if there are athletes who are in danger of losing their eligibility due to academic performance. Upon this notification, I will contact the parent and the child will receive a one week warning. At the conclusion of that week I will review the current status of eligibility and determine if the athlete is able to continue playing and practicing or if they need to be suspended until progress in their studies improves. As a parent you make great sacrifices to send your child to St. Hilary. Academics is a high priority for all of us. We look forward to working with you and your child so that they are able to enjoy the many activities that we offer.

Saint Hilary School

Where faith, family, and academics thrive!

Dear Parents and Guardians:

As principal, it has been an enormous blessing to serve your family this year and I would like to invite you to return for the 2019-20 school year. I hope that our academic and extracurricular programs are more than meeting your expectations and that you share our vision of a school where faith, family and academics thrive.

As usual, re-registration for next school year will begin during Catholic Schools Week starting on January 27th, 2019. However, because of Illinois' Tax Credit Scholarship (TCS) program, we are doing something new this year. Families who wish to apply for TCS tax credit scholarships will need to indicate their choice of a school when submitting a tax credit scholarship application. For that reason, we are asking you to complete this Intent to Return Form, which we will use to confirm your choice in school to the Scholarship Granting Organizations that will administer the tax credit scholarships.

If you intend on applying for a Tax Credit Scholarship, we need you to complete this form by December 20th and return it to the school. If you do not plan on applying for a TCS, this form will save a seat for your child for the next school year. I am hopeful that 100% of our families will complete this form and return it to school by December 20th.

Remember that we will conduct the formal re-registration process during Catholic Schools Week. At that time, you will be asked to complete the official Registration form and other required paperwork, and submit your registration fee for the 2019-2020 school year.

I look forward to serving your family in the coming school year. Please complete your Intent to Return Form by Thursday, December 20th. As always, please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Kathie Donovan,
Principal

What You Need to Know About the “Invest in Kids” Tax Credit Scholarships

Through the “Invest in Kids Act,” Illinois children from low-income households who want to attend private schools will have access to new scholarships. The scholarships offered through this program could cover up to 100 percent of tuition and eligible fees for next school year. Below is more information about how to apply and details on eligibility requirements.

TAX CREDIT SCHOLARSHIPS

Students from low-income households in grades K-12 have the opportunity to receive tax credit scholarships, which are awarded on a first come, first served basis. This program started during the 2018/19 school year and many families in our Catholic schools are benefiting. The scholarships are funded by donors who receive a 75 percent credit on their Illinois state income tax as a result of their donation. If you received a tax credit scholarship this year (2018/19 school year), you must reapply for a tax credit scholarship for next year.

You need to apply for tax credit scholarships through a scholarship granting organization (SGO), which will distribute the scholarships. The Archdiocese of Chicago is working with two SGOs: Empower Illinois and Big Shoulders Fund SGO.

December 2018

Dear families,

We hope that you and your family are having a terrific holiday season! Over at Big Shoulders Fund, we are feeling particularly festive as we have some very exciting news to share.

You may have heard information about the Tax Credit Scholarship Program in Illinois, which can potentially cover some (or all!) of the cost of tuition for families who meet certain income and residential eligibility requirements. You may have even received a Tax Credit Scholarship from Big Shoulders Fund this year, or from another Scholarship Granting Organization (SGO.) Essentially, the program enables donors to reserve Illinois income tax credits based on contributions made to SGOs. SGOs then provide scholarships to eligible students to attend private schools. As with last year, the number of scholarships awarded for the 2019-2020 school year will depend on available funding.

We are pleased to announce that the Big Shoulders Fund Tax Credit Scholarship Program application for the 2019-2020 school year will open January 22, 2019 at 8:00 am.

We encourage you to visit www.bigshouldersfundsgo.org to find Frequently Asked Questions and an application checklist.

You can also contact us at SGOapp@bigshouldersfund.org or 312.751.8337 with any questions.

Sincerely,

Big Shoulders Fund

Color Me Orange/Yellow

We are celebrating orange and yellow fruits and vegetables this month. What are the advantages of eating produce from this color group? Orange and yellow fruits and vegetables promote a healthy heart, vision health, and a stronger immune system. Your school's LunchSmart menu includes a rainbow of fruits and vegetables to enhance student well-being. Eating orange and yellow produce is part of the mix and it tastes good, too.

It is synonymous with Oklahoma roadside diners along Route 66. It is also the star of Oklahoma's official meal. We are talking about chicken-fried steak. Join the Culinary Explorations team in Oklahoma City for a lunch that does the city proud. Did you know Oklahoma City is one of only two capital cities with their state name as part of the city name? The other is Indianapolis.

Catholic Schools, Where All Are Welcome

Four years ago our two oldest daughters started kindergarten at Blessed Sacrament Catholic Elementary School in Quincy, IL. We thought we were bringing inclusion to Blessed Sacrament. We were wrong.

We have three daughters, RayLee (9), Sophie (8) and Mila (7). RayLee and Mila both have Down syndrome. Mila, adopted, also has Reactive Attachment Disorder (RAD), related to being institutionalized in Ukraine the first, almost, three years of her life, and ADHD/spectrum-like needs and behaviors. So, while Blessed Sacrament did not have students that displayed one of the traits of their disability on their face, like Down syndrome does, they did already have students with autism, ADHD, dyslexia, dysgraphia, specific learning disorders, RAD, oppositional defiant disorder (ODD), twice exceptional (gifted AND learning issues), anxiety and a number of undiagnosed mental health and learning disabilities.

As with most Catholic schools, they were highly limited on the resources they had to address these many needs, and, in fact, in most cases, had not labeled the child, were simply working to do the best they possibly could for each student. Now, while I would never say that caring and wanting each child to be successful is ALL you need, I will say that Blessed Sacrament was the proof that faith, caring and a willingness to think outside the box are a good start.

We were so impressed by the school's demonstration of our faith in action, that my husband converted to Catholicism, left his public school position as a principal/special education coordinator and accepted the role of fifth-grade teacher at Blessed Sacrament. In addition, we started a local affiliate program of the FIRE Foundation based out of Kansas City – the FIRE Foundation of Central Illinois – to start raising funds to support our school and eventually our diocese's efforts to include all students.

Forty years ago this year, the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB) released a statement on the leadership role we as Catholics and our Catholic schools must take in the inclusion and education of all students together. We have made some progress in 40 years. Some. Yet, if you ask most people if Catholic schools accept students with disabilities, they will likely tell you no, and they will apologetically point to the lack of resources to educate “those kids.”

While we are blessed with a Catholic school and parish that has chosen to include all students to the best of their ability, they are still financially and resources limited. This makes the possibility that our daughters, and students like them, could be asked to leave or never admitted an ever-present possibility. The weight of this fear is greater than I can capture in the words I write here. If you've experienced your child being left out, I want you to consider what it is like to carry that feeling every single day, and the one leaving them out is their Catholic school, their church. The place we look to for guidance on how we can better serve the “least of these” is, in many cases, not. It is a fear and heartache that I pray will end for all parents as our Catholic schools work to live our faith through the full welcoming and inclusion of all students. It is going to take all of us working together.

Through the combined efforts of NCEA, the USCCB, our Catholic dioceses, parishes and schools, as well as the prayers and work of parents like you and I, we can make inclusion the norm, rather than the exception. Please find our suggestions for how you, as a parent, can help your school's efforts:

- Educate yourself on your state's proportionate share funding process. Contact your state board of education to understand what resources are available via the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) to support your child's educational needs. Then, work with your school to ensure it is getting the federally mandated resources and funding to support your child in that Catholic school. Our Catholic school leaders may not fully understand the many resources that are federally mandated and funded for the support of students with disabilities, especially if the school has not included many students previously. You can be a tremendous resource in this area.
- Be open and honest about your child's needs so you and the school can partner for his or her success.
- Share what works. If you find a method or tool that works at home, tell the teacher and help get it for your school, if you can.
- Attend conferences and share the resources with your child's teacher and school.
- Look for conferences that school staff might attend. If possible, help with offsetting the cost to attend, or help find resources to fund their attendance.
- Write a grant or ask your employer if there are funding opportunities that would be available to support your child's school or the education of students with disabilities.
- Volunteer. Volunteer. Then volunteer some more. The more you can take off of the school or teacher's plate, the more time and resources they have for all students.
- The relationship between you and the school must be a partnership. Be prepared to help in any way possible to add to your child's education.
- Stop expecting perfection. This is for parents and teachers. I often ask educators to list how many of their days are perfect. Wait! None you say? Not a single day or lesson plan was perfect? Inclusion, like everyday in education, is a work in progress. You try this accommodation or modification and if it works, great! If not, we try again. This belief that we cannot implement inclusion until we have a perfect plan or every feasible resource in place is setting our schools up to fail, or to never truly get started.

- Tell everyone about the great things your child's school is doing. You are one of the school's best recruiting and funding assets.
- Acquire information about your child's disability to share with the school. Educators and leaders may want to share facts with other educators, leaders, parents and students.
