Every year, thousands of young people die, leaving in their wake circles of grieving friends in need of support. Many look to how clergy understand loss but few religious traditions have a defined mourning process—or even a role in mourning—for non-family members. Faith Unravels speaks to the profound pain experienced by a forgotten mourner, not by making an argument about God or by offering a recipe of rituals, but by sharing a profound story of faith lost and regained anew.

Daniel Greyber

faith unravels

A Rabbi’s Struggle with Grief and God

978-1-62032-199-7 / $17 / 138pp. / paper

“Rabbi Greyber has done something magnificent with the book you are holding in your hands. He has shared of himself, revealed in the most intimate way where loss can take you, and where it can’t. He has allowed us a peek inside a world of religious observance, beauty, and joy, and in doing so has laid bare the profundity of Judaism. This book is not preachy or full of instructions. It’s a personal testament of love for the Jewish people, God, and those friends he loved and lost.”

From the foreword by Mayim Bialik

TV actor, Big Bang Theory and Blossom and author of Beyond the Sling

“Faith Unravels teaches on many levels. It touchingly explores a young rabbi’s heart and troubled faith as he confronts the deaths of two friends. But offering more than his own experience—always a flimsy platform on which to stand—Greyber illuminates the riches of Jewish traditions and practices in the face of death. Two irresistible forces—a young man’s first encounter with death, and the eternal vastness of God—make for a powerful story when they collide. All people of faith will benefit from this story.”

Richard Lischer

Duke Divinity School

“Rabbi Greyber is smart, inspired, and empowering. His book Faith Unravels gives me comfort and faith! It’s not a good read; it’s a must-read.”

Craig Taubman

singer songwriter

“Families grieve a loss, but how do we mark the loss of the families we create—friends, teachers, students, colleagues? Rabbi Greyber’s story touches each of us who mourn, and his wisdom helps us cope with our own bewilderment and grief.”

Rabbi David Wolpe

author of Why Faith Matters

Daniel Greyber is rabbi of Beth El Synagogue in Durham, North Carolina and will serve as USA Team Rabbi at the 2013 World Maccabiah Games in Israel. Formally a nationally ranked competitive swimmer and faculty member at the Ziegler School of Rabbinic Studies in Los Angeles, he currently serves on the editorial board of Conservative Judaism, and his articles have been featured in a wide range of Jewish periodicals.