

A LIFE LIVED

(Wexler)

A life lived is a story told of faith and fear and courage bold
A life lived is a treasure trove of golden coins from wisdom's cove

For all the stars we wished upon, for all the trust we gave
For all the heights we scaled and climbed on this journey that we brave

A life lived is a game of chance, a spin, a turn of fortunes dance
A life lived is a symphony, a raucous din of gloom and glee

For all the love we won and lost, for all the joy we gave
For all the blows we had to bare on this journey that we brave

Curse with me at fate's cruelty
Toast with me to life's mystery

A life lived is a lavish feast of lust and love to sate the beast
A life lived is a tapestry, a woven tale of you and me

For all the stars we wished upon, for all the trust we gave
For all the heights we scaled and climbed on this journey that we brave

For all the love we've won and lost, for all the joy we gave
For all the blows we had to bear on this journey that we brave
