

The Did Ya NOTICE? PROJECT

MARGERY LEVEEN SHER

Founder and Chief Noticing Officer of The Did Ya Notice? Project™
Speaker and Author. Margery enhances motivation with humor!

Margery teaches her audiences to Notice, which is akin to mindfulness. She knows that most people don't Notice what they see—and she is on a mission to change that! Why? Because Noticing is the secret key to being a hero at home and at work. Because Noticing makes people happier, more focused, and more alert and more productive. Research proves that!

Margery posts her "Noticings" regularly on The Did Ya Notice? Project website www.DidYaNotice.com, and she is also an established blogger for the Huffington Post. Margery's keynotes and breakout sessions are always customized for the audience. She will leave your group motivated, energized, focused...and bent over with laughter!

"I have seen Margery connect with a wide range of audiences—from physicians to bankers; from elected officials to venture capitalists. She has an amazing sense of humor, openness, and ability to listen that makes her an ideal person to enter a new environment and immediately garner people's attention and add significant value."

– Diane Naughton, Cavalier Films

KEYNOTE PRESENTATION

NOTICE WHAT YOU SEE AND BECOME A HERO AT WORK

Find Your Zipper!

What "elegant solutions" can you find and where else can you use them?

Put the Patterns to Work!

Decide whether to replicate or disrupt them.

Notice Human Idiosyn-Crazies™ and Laugh!

Build up this fuel to propel you to kindness.

MARGERY'S KEYNOTES WILL RESULT IN

- Increased Focus
- Greater Productivity
- Decreased Stress
- Increased Teamwork and Communication
- Increased Readiness to Laugh

Margery is available for speaking, interviews and writing assignments.

The Did Ya NOTICE? PROJECT

Margery Leveen Sher is the Founder and Chief Noticing Officer of The Did Ya Notice? Project™. Margery is an entrepreneur, executive, writer and speaker who has had a long consulting career working with corporations, government agencies, non-profit organizations, and foundations. She founded and successfully developed a for-profit consulting firm, over 30 non-profit organizations, and two charitable funds. She has a book and numerous articles on various aspects of work-life balance. Margery holds a Master's Degree in Developmental Psychology from Rutgers University.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING ABOUT MARGERY

“ I have worked with Margery in various capacities for over a decade and she still surprises me with her ability to see old issues through new lenses. Her clever combination of experience and insight always leaves her audience laughing and learning.”

– Jerry Croan, ICF International

“ As an advisor on the art of work-life balance, Margery takes you on an entertaining journey with a fresh perspective on the meaning of success.”

– Helen Stine, Commander Navy Installations Command

“ Serious topics addressed with humor and entertainment.”

– Katherine Morrison, Morrison Nonprofit Transitions

Our Chief Noticing Officer is like the late Andy Rooney, but with neater eyebrows. She combines Rooney-like directness with a dose of wide-eyed amazement and a dollop of laughter. She knows that to Notice is to really live, and that this is the secret key to becoming a hero at home and work!