Paul Fitzpatrick has been awarded the 2017 Mike Corn Award in recognition of his continued service to union affairs and for his ongoing commitment to the community.

In retirement Paul served as a Rome Teachers Association retiree representative including head rep. Paul did an excellent job fulfilling his obligation as Retiree Head Rep and often went above and beyond the call of duty. Paul also served on various Rome Teachers Association committees including Labor Council and Constitution and By-laws, providing both his time and his expertise.

Paul's gift to the community has been his investment of time. He annually spearheads the local Heart Run and Walk as well as the school district's United Way drive.

Finally, Paul's continued dedication is shown through his service as a member of the Rome City School District's Board of Education over the past few years. Currently he presides as the president of the Board. While serving on the Board, Paul has been at the core of launching our community schools efforts alongside Rome Teachers Association representatives.

Paul was nominated by Rob Wood, President of the Rome Teacher's Association.
