

The Tourism and Hospitality industry are collaborating on a new initiative “Workforce Futures” to help industry businesses improve and grow through their people.

Through the Workforce Futures Skills Advisor Network, a skilled and qualified advisor will work with your business to identify and respond to your specific workforce needs. The Skills Advisor Network service includes 17.5 hours of support and mentoring across a 6 month period and best of all, it's FREE.

The Workforce Futures Skills Advisor Network service is fully funded by the Federal Government.

Any tourism and hospitality business can apply to participate in Workforce Futures.

Eligibility criteria:

- Business has a current Australian Business Number (ABN)
- Business has a written Business Plan (easy-to-use templates available)
- Business has been trading for at least 12 months
- At least 25% of business activity is directly related to tourism and/or hospitality
- Willingness and capacity to actively participate in the Program (17.5 hours across a 6 month block)

NOTE: Participation in the Workforce Futures program may require you to provide information about your business of a general financial and personnel nature. All information collected is only for use in the Business Report/Workforce Development Plan and is held in the strictest of confidence.

Your business may also be eligible to apply for Government funding to support the training of employees through the National Workforce Development Fund.
