V1

To those who are so broken
That it's better left unspoken
You are all welcome in this place
Where the royals set their crowns
On the table and sit down
Next to those without a name

Pre-Chorus

We pass the wine
We break the bread
We bare our souls
Of where we've been
We revel in the stories
And raise our glasses up

Chorus

To love
To every time we'd ever given up
To the humble King who came to rescue us
Who knows the scars we have
Who finds us in our deepest pain
And always brings us back
To love

V2

And to those who've taken casualties
And want to save an empty seat
You are not alone
Listen close and you will find
The saints who've gone before their time
Are in every tale that's told
