

The Long Island Native Plant Initiative, Inc.

Presents our 4th Native Plant Symposium

“Flora for Fauna”

November 17, 2017

Farmingdale State College, Farmingdale, N.Y.

The 2017 Native Plant Symposium is an educational program hosted by the Long Island Native Plant Initiative Inc. We invite you to please consider becoming a sponsor for this important and timely symposium that seeks to stimulate the application of ecotypic native plants by emphasizing the ecological importance of a diverse array of natives, highlighting applications in the landscape, and demonstrating thriving native plant propagation business operations and sales.
