RATIONALE

Dress codes are tangible evidence of the standards expected of students and play an important role in promoting positive images of schools. A school's dress code supports all students to participate fully in school life. Dress codes can help create a sense of identity and a school culture in which every student experiences a sense of belonging.

GUIDELINES

ESTABLISHING THE SCHOOL DRESS CODE

The principal will work with the School Board to develop and regularly review, in consultation with the school community, a dress code that:

- is similar for all students, as far as is practicable;
- takes into account religious and cultural requirements;
- includes gender neutral options such as shorts and pants; and
- provides suitable clothing for sport or physical education, including supporting informal and incidental physical activity.

Any item of clothing that is to be worn whilst students are representing the school will be deemed as part of the Dress Code and as such, require the approval of the School Board. This includes graduation shirts and sporting uniforms.

Any requests to modify or be exempt from the approved Dress Code, must be made through the School Principal.

NON-COMPLIANCE OF THE DRESS CODE

Classroom teachers are responsible for identifying students who do not comply with the Dress Code Policy.

Teachers may choose to discuss reasons for non-compliance directly with a student, or with a parent if the student is too young.

Teachers who identify students who regularly fail to comply with the Dress Code should refer these matters to a member of the administration team.

Procedures for managing non-compliance with the dress code are approved by the School Board. Under the School Education Regulations 2000, Regulation 36, if a non-complying student is enrolled in a primary program, sanctions will be limited to the following actions only:

- preventing the student from attending any activity in which the student would have been representing the school; or
- preventing the student from attending or participating in any school activity which, in the opinion of the principal, is not part of the educational program.

Modifications to the Dress Code

Students who, for religious or health reasons, may wish to modify the school dress code are required to make an appointment with the Principal. Staff will be informed of any student granted a modification to the dress code.
