

NYJO - 5 Years and 100 videos on YouTube

Carl Billson - February 2012

On YouTube there's over 100 videos showing all NYJO bands (NYJO2, NYJO1 and NYJO Jazz Combo) performing and rehearsing. They span 5 years and feature dozens of talented young players from across Nottingham City and County performing jazz (and some 'crossover' music) at a range of venues. They include Big Band concerts, the improvising 8-piece Jazz Combo, gigs with orchestras and choirs, workshops and numbers where NYJO's patron, world-renowned saxophonist Tony Kofi, sits in with the NYJO Combo.

These videos are not specially selected; they just happen to be the ones that got uploaded - there are many more in the 'archives' that just never happened to get uploaded! Anyway, after 5 successful years of NYJO, it's great to look back and enjoy!

As of February 2013, there's a dozen videos, from 3+ years ago, under the zootyfruity577 channel. More recent videos, currently almost 75 of them, are on the flurysh channel. The nottsnyjo1 channel has a further sixteen videos.

Example extract of NYJO listing on YouTube

Are there any other Notts NYJO videos on YouTube, as distinct from those of our namesake, the National Youth Jazz Orchestra? Yes there are and, if you find them, please let us know. And, if you have a video of 'our' NYJO playing that you'd like to upload, please do so and email us via the website!

Below are the listings for NYJO's varied repertoire of tunes, most with original arrangements.
