Bauhaus Art: Where Did It Go?

A Continuing Discussion

Our discussion on 10/25 simply "scratched the surface" of this topic, so we'll continue...

The recovery of art pillaged by the Nazi regime is well documented. However, the fate of Bauhaus art and craft (deemed "entartete kunst" or degenerate art dangerous to German culture) created at Weimar, Dessau and Berlin is rarely mentioned. Research what became of Bauhaus work created during the Nazi era in preparation for our continuing discussion of this topic. See Jerry Litofsky's two postings of 11/8 under 'Your Comments' on our website for additional thoughts and a list of related websites.

Next Meeting: 12/19, HELVETICA, the film,
7:00pm, location to follow.
