Class of the Month Spotlight Kindergarten

Where's Parry?

Congratulations to Nick D. in 8th grade! He discovered Parry hiding right on his box in the middle hallway. Be sure to be on the lookout for Parry's next hiding spot.

We are off to a great start in Kindergarten! We have been busy getting to know each other and learning our routines. Miss Weis has been enjoying her first few weeks at Paris School! Grandparent's Day was a huge success and lots of fun. Kindergarten is now getting ready for the Panther Prowl! This is going to be a great school year, and we are excited to be a part of the Paris family.

SCIENCE FESTIVAL?
CURIOSITY UNLEASHED.

Friday 10/12                      7:00 pm - 9:30 pm

Saturday 10/13                    7:00 pm - 9:30 pm

The UW-Whitewater Observatory will open up its telescopes (weather permitting) for all ages. See planets, star clusters and nebulae through our telescopes! Indoors, we will provide examples of how astronomers break light up into a rainbow spectrum to learn about the chemical composition of stars and nebulae. Our computers will also be set up to allow you to look at data from modern telescopes – on a “citizen science” website set up by Professor Bob Benjamin – and make discoveries for yourself! If the weather is cloudy, we will also give tours of the big telescope and show you how it operates, even if the dome has to stay closed.

Free parking closest to the observatory is in Lot 2, 203 N. Prince Street, Whitewater, WI 53190.
