

Politics, Finance, and Economics at a New Crossroads:

Sept 27, 2012
6:45pm

Do we need different models or a different vision?

in the Marcus Commons at the Daniels College of Business, University of Denver

Mr. Sareen is a currency portfolio manager and has been involved in the global bond, equity, and currency markets for the last 18 years.

His focus is on the larger macro-economic forces that drive changes in the global economy, differences between countries, and the behavior of financial markets. Anujeet received his Bachelor's in Computer Science from Brown University in 1993 and earned his Chartered Financial Analyst designation in 1998.

CROSSROADS
CULTURAL CENTER

This is a Presidential Debate Passport-Eligible event

a discussion with Anujeet Sareen, Currency Portfolio Manager at Wellington Management Company, Boston

The discussion will address some of the key issues at stake in the next presidential election, including the national debt, distributive justice, unemployment, and trade deficit. Mr. Sareen will draw on his own experience with politics, finance, and economics, and discuss why the left and right are both wrong.