

WHERE IS MANAGEMENT?

For the past few weeks, NUHW's elected bargaining team has been hard at work reviewing bargaining surveys, talking to our co-workers, and developing proposals for negotiations.

Meanwhile, Hackley management has been MIA. Management has ignored all of our calls, visits, and emails to set dates and times for negotiations.

We've even had to file charges with the National Labor Relations Board just to stop management from illegally changing our working conditions and refusing to bargain.

Hackley management should know that negotiations are a two-way street. It's time for them to sit down at the table and negotiate a fair contract.
