

Department for Community Based Services &
 Barren River Area Community Collaborations for Children Present
Impact of Domestic Violence on Families,
 Service Providers, and the Community
April 9, 2013

Collaborating with programs that address fatherhood, domestic violence, and child welfare can simultaneously reduce family violence, increase father involvement, and improve child support outcomes. This conference provides the opportunity for community partners to discuss barriers, gaps and strengths of the service community and explore issues of consumer and staff safety.
