Liturgical Reflection

20th Sunday in Ordinary Time

FIRST READING: Jeremiah 38:4-6, 8-10

Jeremiah again undergoes one of many sufferings as a result of his fidelity in proclaiming God's prophetic word to the people. His words of God's judgment and punishment for their sinfulness are continually rejected as the people take their anger out on Jeremiah personally, often endangering his life. Jeremiah, despite constant danger, trusted in the Lord and faithfully spoke God's words. God had warned Jeremiah that his prophetic words would lead some to "fight against you, but not prevail over you" (1:19). While constantly challenged in his ministry, Jeremiah continued to trust in the Lord and in today's passage, God once again save Jeremiah to preach again. How do you handle opposition and rejection for believing and trusting in God?

SECOND READING: Hebrews 12:1-4

Addressing the opposition to their faith, values, and lifestyle, the author of the Letter to the Hebrews counsels that faith community to consider the suffering and opposition that Jesus experienced during his lifetime and learn from it so "that you may not grow weary and lose heart." Jesus endured the Cross, despised its shame and rightly took "his seat at the right of the throne of God." "We are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses" who ran the race before us and despite the difficulties persevered in their faith while keeping their eye on Jesus, "the leader and perfecter of faith." In similar manner, we too are to shed all sin and all that burdens us and persevere in the faith, running steadily towards the prize, total union with Jesus at God's right hand.

GOSPEL: Luke 12:49-53

Luke's Jesus knows that his mission and ministry will bring opposition, rejection, and suffering. It will divide families, cause disruption and havoc in community groupings and bring division instead of peace. Aware of all this, Jesus longs to "set the earth on fire" with God's Kingdom, proclaiming a way of relating that is countercultural and contrary to the normal way of thinking and acting. In doing so, Jesus will have to undergo the Baptism of rejection, suffering, and death, trusting that it will lead to ultimate victory. Despite all the rejection and suffering that will result from this ministry, both personally and to his followers, Jesus is determined to be faithful throughout bringing to completion and fulfillment God's Kingdom. As disciples we too are challenged to take up the same mission and ministry.

That's The Way It Is!

On Monday, August 8, we celebrated the memorial of Saint Dominic. Saint Dominic is the founder of the Dominicans. The Dominicans are a religious order that focus on preaching. After their name the letters O.P appear. Those letters stand for “Order of Preachers.” The Dominicans at one time, much like the Jesuits, were intellectual powerhouses for Catholicism. They were an unstoppable force for God’s Truth. I like to think of the Jesuits and Dominicans (in the days when they defended the Faith) as analogous to the military special forces. They were at one time the best and brightest.

Dominic lived in a time when the Albegensian Heresy was affecting the Church. (Incidentally much of the theology espoused by the Albegensians anticipated what would become the modern day Baptist church) This heresy was a rehashing of Gnosticism. They believed the material world was evil while the spiritual world was good. This led them to deny the Incarnation. Denying the Incarnation lead them to deny the Sacraments, in particular the Ministerial Priesthood. What made the Albegensians such a threat was that they were extremely educated and intelligent. During this time in Church history there were no seminaries. A man learned how to be a priest through apprentice. Because the Albegensians were able to intelligently defend their beliefs, a lot of Catholics were lead astray. Priests were not equipped to handle them.

Dominic founded the Dominicans to specifically meet this threat. The Dominicans would go into towns and churches where the heresy thrived and they would preach in the Churches. They were given special education to equip them with the tools they needed to debate and respond to the Albegensian arguments. Pious legend hands on that Mary appeared to Dominick and gave him the Rosary as we now know it. Dominick was complaining in his prayer that his labor was bearing no fruit. People were not turning away from the heresy. Mary is said to have appeared to Dominick and told him to pray the mysteries of the Rosary. Dominick did so and many converted back to the truth of Catholicism.

Today the Church is facing assaults from just about every direction. The Church is being attacked from within and from without. From without, the Church is facing assaults from liberal, secular, humanist atheism. From within, the Church is facing assaults from dissident bishops, priests and theologians. They are well educated, respected and intelligent. Catholic institutions that were once powerful forces for Catholic Truth have long since made their peace with the tenants of liberal, secular, humanist atheism.

One of the things that struck me about Dominic’s struggles is that he was not able to bring people back to the Church through superior argumentation alone. I talked to a priest friend of mine and I told him that I would like to take further studies. I explained that I would like to focus on answering the arguments of the New Atheists, the evangelical Protestants and the liberal secularists. My friend was surprised at my comment. He told me I didn’t need further studies as I knew enough now to take on the opponents of Catholicism. If I needed further study I could read on my own. More importantly he said “Dave, you can’t argue people into the Faith and you can’t argue heretics back into the Faith.”

My friend was rightly chiding me for an over-reliance on the powers of logic and reason when it comes to the Faith. He was reminding me that without prayer all the logic, all the education and all the reason in the world is of no avail. The fact is that the beauty of Catholicism and the Truth of Catholicism speaks for itself—for those who have eyes to see and ears to hear.

This, perhaps, is why the Rosary was so effective at turning the heretics back. The Rosary is not a complicated prayer or ritual. It is quite simple. The Rosary, when understood and prayed correctly, is a meditation on the Incarnation and the mysteries of Redemption. The most powerful prayer in the Church is the Mass. This is because the Mass is a presentation of the mysteries of Redemption. Through the Mass we participate in the mysteries of Redemption as if we were present when Christ was revealing them to the Apostles. The Rosary is a reflection on what we participate in when we attend Mass. The “Hail Mary’s” rightly understood embody the Incarnation because God Himself was born of a women. Humanity in the person of Mary becomes the Mercy Seat—the place where God dwells.

As Catholics it is always good to be able to defend our Faith intelligently. More important, however is prayer. Saint Dominic understood this and we must understand this as well. With much prayer we can accomplish much. Without prayer we will accomplish little. Pray, pray, pray! Pray that God give people the eyes to see and the ears to hear the Truth and beauty of Catholicism!

That's the way it is!

The Reverend David Bechtel

PRIESTS FOR LIFE

Pope Benedict on Conscience - “The Catechism of the Catholic Church tells us, ‘Conscience is a judgment of reason whereby the human person recognizes the moral quality of a concrete act that he is going to perform, is in the process of performing or has already completed. In all he says and does, man is obliged to follow faithfully what he knows to be just and right.’ From this definition it emerges that the moral conscience, above all must be based on the solid foundation of truth, that is, it must be enlightened to know the true value of actions and the solid criteria for evaluation. Therefore, it must be able to distinguish good from evil, even where the social environment, pluralistic culture and superimposed interests do not help it do so.” February, 2007

Diocese of Scranton News

THE YEAR OF MERCY OFFERS OPPORTUNITY TO BRING HEALING IN THE AREA OF FAILED MARRIAGES

When marriages fail, Catholics may be unclear about their relationship to the Church.

- "I am civilly divorced and not sure whether I can continue to receive the Eucharist or be a part of the parish community."
- "I am not sure about the status of my marriage. It would be helpful to talk to someone who could explain it to me."
- "My spouse and I would like to explore having our marriage blessed in the Church."
- I don't know what an annulment really is and why I would want one. Also, I heard they are expensive."

Do any of these voices sound like you or someone you know? In the Diocese of Scranton, the annulment process is now more "user friendly" than you might expect, and there is no longer a processing fee. Please contact your pastor or the Tribunal Office (570-207-2246) to begin a conversation. It is possible to get clear answers to these questions and to renew your connection with the Church.

Jubilee Year of Mercy

This Holy Year will conclude on Sunday, November 20th, the Solemnity of Our Lord Jesus Christ, King of the Universe and living face of the Father's mercy.

"During this Jubilee Year, it would be a good thing, as they enter the Holy Door, the Gate of Mercy, that pilgrims remember the episode of the Gospel which took place at the Gate into Nain," Pope Francis said. "When Jesus saw this mother in tears, she entered his heart! At the Holy Door everyone arrives bringing their life; joys and sufferings, projects and failures, doubts and fears, and presents them to the mercy of the Lord. We are confident that, at the Holy Door, the Lord is there near to us, to encounter each one of us, to bring and offer his powerful words of comfort: 'Do not cry!'"

The Holy Father continued, saying this is "the door of where the suffering of humanity encounters the compassion of God." Pope Francis said, "To each of us he says: 'Rise up'. God wants us to stand. He created us to be on our feet. His word revives us, gives us hope, restores tired hearts, opens us to a view of the world and of life that goes beyond suffering and death."

The Pope went on to say that "mercy, both in Jesus and in us, is a journey that starts from the heart to goes to the hands." "What does this mean? Jesus looks at you, heals you with his mercy, tells you: 'Get up!', and your heart is new." "What does it mean to take a journey from the heart to the hands? It means that with this new heart, this heart healed by Jesus, he can do the works of mercy through his hands, trying to help, to heal the many that are in need. Mercy is a journey that starts in the heart and travels to the hands, that is, to works of mercy."

News From the Vatican

POPE FRANCIS HAS TO THIS YEAR'S OLYMPIC ATHLETES

Vatican City - Just two days before the Opening Ceremonies for the 2016 Olympics in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Pope Francis offered a message to those who will be competing in the international games.

"In a world thirsting for peace, tolerance, and reconciliation, I hope that the spirit of the Olympic Games inspires all – participants and spectators – to 'fight the good fight' and finish the race together," he said.

The Holy Father voiced hope that in competing this year, the Olympic athletes will desire "to obtain as a prize, not a medal, but something much more precious: the construction of a civilization in which solidarity reigns and is based upon the recognition that we are all members of the same human family, regardless of the differences of culture, skin color, or religion."

Pope Francis offered these words at the conclusion of his general audience in St. Peter's Square on Aug. 3

He offered a warm greeting to the people of Brazil saying, "I hope that this will be an opportunity to overcome difficult moments and commit...to working as a team to build a more just and safe country, betting all on a future full of hope and joy."
