Liturgical Reflection

Easter Sunday

FIRST READING: Acts 10:34, 37-43

Jesus of Nazareth, anointed by God with the Holy Spirit, healed many people. He was put to death but was raised by God. We have seen him and have eaten with him. He has sent us to preach this Good News. And this is the truth we speak to you today: "Everyone who believes in him will receive forgiveness of sins through his name." Peter took a very bold step that day to broaden the mission of the followers of Jesus. Because of the vision he received, Peter had come to believe that all people were to be included in the great work of preaching the story of Jesus Christ. The Good News could not and should not be contained, for it is meant for all time.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM: Psalm 118

More verses of the song of victory, Psalm 118, are heard in this reading. God's mercy is not a one-time-reality; it endures across the ages. God will protect those who believe, who are rescued through his power. The final verse, in which the rejected stone is mentioned, are recited by Jesus in reference to himself in the Gospel accounts of Matthew, Mark, and Luke. They also appear in Acts, Ephesians, and 1 Peter. Jesus has not fit the blueprint expected for the rebuilding of God's house.

SECOND READING: Colossians 3:1-4

The Colossians reading urges us to die to self in order to focus on the Lord, for having been baptized in Christ, the concerns of the world should diminish in meaning. For those who are caught up in the things of this world, however, this reading is an invitation to reorder our lives. On the day of glory, the worldly things that can consume human hearts will have no significance.

GOSPEL: John 20:1-9

Mary Magdalene is the first person at the tomb in all four Gospel accounts. In the synoptic accounts, she brings oil to anoint the body of the Lord. In John's account, the anointing has already taken place, but Mary is still the first person on record to go to the tomb. She is the messenger who then brings Peter and the Beloved Disciple to see the stone has been moved. There are not angels in this story to suggest that a body has inexplicably been raised. There are only cloths that lay on the ground, the head cloth arranged in a separate place, all to indicate that this is not the scene of a robbery. In those first moments, what it all means is unclear, and only the Beloved Disciple "saw and believed." Time and future appearances of the Lord will add believers to the community. As we gather on this Easter day, we remember and celebrate that Jesus is indeed risen and walks among us still. Yet, it is only with eyes of faith that we recognize him – in the breaking of bread, in the preaching of his Word, and in the presence of his people gathered in his name.

ABOUT THIS SUNDAY

Easter Sunday marks the end of the Triduum and is the first day of the Easter Octave. The great 50 days begin. Forty days of fast yield to fifty days of feast. The Collect uses the important phrase "on this day." Our participation in the liturgy on this day is our participation in the salvation won for us and made present for us; therefore, it is on this day that God, through his only begotten Son, has "conquered death and unlocked for us the path to eternity." Therefore, we pray that "we who keep the solemnity of the Lord's Resurrection" may rise to new life through the renewal brought by the Holy Spirit.

Pro Life News

PRIESTS FOR LIFE

There is no day on which it is easier to preach on the victory of life than today, the Feast of Life, of Christ's victory over death. Easter makes it clear that being "pro-life" is not something that flows primarily from any political or ideological loyalty, nor simply from a cause, plan, project, or organization. Being pro-life, and all its other manifestations and activities, flow from what happened on Easter. Christ did not only conquer his death; he overturned the entire kingdom of death!

On Easter, we do not come to Church simply to congratulate Jesus for rising from the dead. We come to celebrate the fact that we share that victory. We too, by living and dying in him, will rise in him on the last day. But this victory is also about today, because we share his risen life now. If we share his life, we are "an Easter people," or "the People of Life." This means that we proclaim this victory of life, and stand strongly against all the forces in our society that eclipse or destroy the value of life - foremost among them all being abortion. We stand before these forces, not intimidated, hesitant, or unsure of our ability to overcome them. Instead, we stand before them in strength, declaring that they no longer have any ground to stand on, nor any place in our midst. Christ is Risen! On this day we stand with conviction that the Gospel inspires, and go people forth to apply the Easter victory of Christ to every segment of society!

That's The Way It Is!

Happy Easter! Today we celebrate the resurrection of our Lord and his triumph over death. It is important to understand that when we talk about the resurrection we are talking about a historical event. We are also talking about a physical event. Jesus was bodily raised from the dead. The Apostles and some of the disciples were witnesses to the Risen Jesus. Their testimony comes to us today through Scripture and Tradition.

Karen Armstrong is a popular writer on religion. She is a former Catholic sister. She left the convent and the practice of the Catholic Faith after realizing that she does not believe the Catholic Faith. I give her kudos for that. At least she has integrity. Armstrong has written many books on religion, and claims to be a religious historian. Her formal academic training is in English. She also attempted a doctoral degree but never completed the degree. She has little to no meaningful or substantive training in theology, yet she poses as an authority on religion. She has a lot of bizarre notions about what Christianity is and how it works. She has advanced these rather bizarre views in her works.

She is relevant to my article this Sunday because she has embraced a view that liberal “scholars” have been advancing about the resurrection for some time. This view holds that whether the resurrection is historical, and whether it involves a physical rising of Jesus from the grave is not really relevant to the Christian Faith. The resurrection is seen as a metaphor for the rise in Easter Faith in the hearts of the disciples. Armstrong was once involved in a discussion about the resurrection with Christopher Hitchens a noted atheist. Hitchens pulled no punches when she tried to give him that line of utter balderdash. He told her that as far as he was concerned Christianity has nothing to offer. Unless Jesus rose historically and physically from the dead, what would be the point of being Christian? He (Hitchens) has no use for such a religion. Neither do I.

Hitchens is quite correct in his statement. Sometimes God has a sense of humor. In this case, it is the atheist who got it right. It was the atheist who spoke the truth. It was the atheist who taught the theist a thing or two about what it means to be a real Christian and what it means to believe in the resurrection. The resurrection of Christ understood as a historical and physical event is essential to the Christian Faith. It is a tenant of the creed. There are some things you can deny and still remain a Christian. You might not remain a Catholic, but you would remain Christian. The resurrection is not one of those things. Without the resurrection, understood as a historical and physical event, Christianity falls—or at the very least is stripped of any real value.

There is an old saying: “There is nothing new under the sun.” The liberal scholars who advance a metaphorical view of the resurrection think they are cutting edge; they are hipper than thou. The truth is that the Church got there and dealt with this long before they did. Saint Paul dealt with this view with the Corinthian community. The Corinthians adopted similar views to the ones advanced by Armstrong. Paul utterly demolishes such thinking in First Corinthians 15: 12-20. To paraphrase: If Jesus is not raised from the dead in truth, what the heck are we all doing? What is the point of our message and religion? It is utterly and totally worthless— even worse: we remain dead in sin. Hitchens, an atheist, knew this. Hitchens may not believe in God, but he understands what Christianity about. An atheist understands Christianity better than the alleged adherents!

Make no mistake: our Faith depends on Easter Sunday. It is the most glorious and sacred of all days. It is the most joyous of all days. The birth of Christ reveals the goodness and humility of God. The resurrection reveals the majesty and power of God. Christ is truly risen. Christ is risen indeed! Note that I do not say “Christ has risen” (past tense.) I say “Christ IS risen.” (Present tense.) Christ is not only risen, Christ is with us.

The resurrection is not just a metaphor. The resurrection is something that happened in history and it is physical. The resurrection not only reveals the victory of Christ over death and sin, but it reveals our destiny. That should be cause of great hope. Our bodies will return to the dust of the earth one day—but the grave is not the final end. God will raise our bodies up from the dust of the earth. God will recreate our bodies and cloth them with incorruptibility. Death will be no more. Death in the end is going to die.

May the joy of the Christ who is risen in truth, in history, in body, present to us now be in your minds and your hearts.

Happy Easter!

That's the way it is! The Reverend David W. Bechtel

April – Month of the Holy Eucharist

During the month of April, we give special honor to the Holy Eucharist. The Eucharist, the Second Vatican Council taught us, is “the source and summit of the Christian life” (Lumen Gentium, 11). What does that mean? It means that our participation in the Eucharist is the source from which we draw our strength to live as Jesus taught, and to serve in his name. It is also the summit, the high point of our communal life. We use the same word when we speak of the Sacrament of Christ's Body and Blood.

In this month of the Holy Eucharist, let us participate more fully and actively in the Church's liturgy, our celebration of the Eucharist. And let us take time, too, for quiet adoration in the presence of the Blessed Sacrament, and become more aware of the wondrous way Christ comes to us in the Eucharist.

News from the Vatican

EASTER 'URBI ET ORBI' MESSAGE OF POPE FRANCIS

Dear Brothers and Sisters, a Happy and Holy Easter!

The Church throughout the world echoes the angel's message to the women: "Do not be afraid! I know that you are looking for Jesus who was crucified. He is not here; for he has been raised... Come, see the place where he lay" (Mt 28:5-6). This is the culmination of the Gospel, it is the Good News par excellence: Jesus, who was crucified, is risen! This event is the basis of our faith and our hope. If Christ were not raised, Christianity would lose its very meaning; the whole mission of the Church would lose its impulse, for this is the point from which it first set out and continues to set out ever anew. The message which Christians bring to the world is this: Jesus, Love incarnate, died on the cross for our sins, but God the Father raised him and made him the Lord of life and death. In Jesus, love has triumphed over hatred, mercy over sinfulness, goodness over evil, truth over falsehood, life over death. That is why we tell everyone: "Come and see!" In every human situation, marked by frailty, sin and death, the Good News is no mere matter of words, but a testimony to unconditional and faithful love: it is about leaving ourselves behind and encountering others, being close to those crushed by life's troubles, sharing with the needy, standing at the side of the sick, elderly and the outcast... "Come and see!": Love is more powerful, love gives life, love makes hope blossom in the wilderness.

With this joyful certainty in our hearts, today we turn to you, risen Lord! Help us to seek you and to find you, to realize that we have a Father and are not orphans; that we can love and adore you. Help us to overcome the scourge of hunger, aggravated by conflicts and by the immense wastefulness for which we are often responsible. Enable us to protect the vulnerable, especially children, women and the elderly, who are at times exploited and abandoned. Enable us to care for our brothers and sisters struck by the Ebola epidemic in Guinea Conakry, Sierra Leone and Liberia, and to care for those suffering from so many other diseases which are also spread through neglect and dire poverty. Comfort all those who cannot celebrate this Easter with their loved ones because they have been unjustly torn from their affections, like the many persons, priests and laity, who in various parts of the world have been kidnapped. Comfort those who have left their own lands to migrate to places offering hope for a better future and the possibility of living their lives in dignity and, not infrequently, of freely professing their faith.

We ask you, Lord Jesus, to put an end to all war and every conflict, whether great or small, ancient or recent. We pray in a particular way for Syria, beloved Syria, that all those suffering the effects of the conflict can receive needed humanitarian aid and that neither side will again use deadly force, especially against the defenseless civil population, but instead boldly negotiate the peace long awaited and long overdue! Jesus, Lord of glory, we ask you to comfort the victims of fratricidal acts of violence in Iraq and to sustain the hopes raised by the resumption of negotiations between Israelis and Palestinians. We beg for an end to the conflicts in the Central African Republic and a halt to the brutal terrorist attacks in parts of Nigeria and the acts of violence in South Sudan. We ask that hearts be turned to reconciliation and fraternal concord in Venezuela.

By your resurrection, which this year we celebrate together with the Churches that follow the Julian calendar, we ask you to enlighten and inspire the initiatives that promote peace in Ukraine so that all those involved, with the support of the international community, will make every effort to prevent violence and, in a spirit of unity and dialogue, chart a path for the country's future. On this day, may they be able to proclaim, as brothers and sisters, that Christ is risen, Khrystos voskres!

Lord, we pray to you for all the peoples of the earth: you who have conquered death, grant us your life, grant us your peace!

Dear brothers and sisters, Happy Easter!

Eternal Rest Grant Unto Them, O Lord and Let the Perpetual Light Shine Upon Them.

Lord, this we know, no matter how difficult life may be at this time, we know you will not stop loving us and will always hold us in the palm of your hand. We are reaching to you, Lord, to hold us, comfort us, and heal us. Lord, this we know, you are faithful in your love for us today and forever. You are with us, and we are with you. Amen.
