Liturgical Reflection 13th Sunday in Ordinary Time

FIRST READING: Wisdom 1:13-15; 2:23-24

The book of Wisdom, written about fifty years before the birth of Jesus, contains some of the clearest Old Testament references to belief in the afterlife. The author offers hope and comfort that humankind, created in the divine image, will share in God's life forever. From the beginning God fashioned us for immortality. We were not made to perish, because he made us in his own image – the divine image.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM: Psalm 30

The psalmist's emphasis on the Lord rescuing him from his enemies and bringing him up from the netherworld, relates to Wisdom's description of how God made us for everlasting life with him. Even when we turn from him, God is faithful. In God our sadness and grief will always turn to dancing for we will never perish.

SECOND READING: 2 Corinthians 8:7, 9, 13-15

Today's reading calls for concrete action rooted in such love and calls for a gracious act of stewardship. Paul's efforts to collect funds from the churches he founded to aid the church in Jerusalem suffering from widespread famine, form the immediate context for today's passage. He urged the Corinthians to imitate the love of Christ, who gave life itself for others, to similar selfless giving. God has been good to us; the only fitting response is to be good to others.

GOSPEL: Mark 5:21-43

As Jarius and Jesus were making their way to Jarius's home, a woman who was part of the large crowd following them, reached out and touched Jesus' cloak. She was now free of an illness that had afflicted her for 12 years. In healing the woman, Jesus reassures her that her faith has brought her healing, thus reinforcing the necessity and power of human faith in God's mighty rule. As the continue on, Jarius expresses astounding faith in Jesus. Jesus underscores the importance of this faith when Jarius hears his daughter is already dead: "Do not be afraid; just have faith." Both the woman and the girl's father set out to put their faith into action, and thus they opened up the space for God to work wonders for them. These two healing miracles testify to the power of Jesus and his word. In Jesus, is the presence of life, not death.

ADULT EDUCATION FILM SERIES

Please join us for a summer film series beginning on Wednesday, July 11th in the Parish Center. A different movie will be shown each week for 6 weeks.

All movies, with the exception of the last one, will be held on Wednesday evenings, beginning at 6:00pm. The final movie will be shown on Tuesday, August 14th, following the 5:00pm Mass (Assumption), with pizza and popcorn provided for all. The movies are:

"Courageous" (129 mins, 2010) - Despite showing bravery on the job, a group of law enforcement officers find themselves undone when tragedy strikes at home. With the aid of their faith, the men find a deeper well of courage in their hearts. This film powerfully explores the themes of fatherhood and self-sacrifice. PG-13

"The Reluctant Saint" (104 mins, 1962)- This classic portrayal of the life of St. Joseph of Cupertino, captures this 17th century Italian Franciscan saint's amazingly humble, gentle, patient and obedient disposition. Particularly renowned for his feats of levitation, Joseph is the patron saint of students, aviation, pilots and astronauts.

"Paul, Apostle of Christ" (108 mins, 2018) - Recounting the inspiring life of the apostle Paul, this historical drama follow him as he converts to Christianity after persecuting Jesus' early followers and is later arrested and executed for spreading heresy. A film dedicated to all who have been persecuted for their faith. PG-13

"The Book of Life" (95 mins, 2014)- A refreshingly original animated fable that takes viewers to the underworld and back. A vibrant and colorful film about doing the right thing and the importance of family set against the backdrop of the customs surrounding Mexico's Day of the Dead. PG

"I Can Only Imagine" (110 mins, 2018) - Released as a single in 2001, the Christian rock ballad "I Can Only Imagine" became a huge crossover hit for the band Mercy Me and composer Bart Millard. This family drama charts Millard's life and memories of his late father, which inspired the song. PG

"I lived on Parker Avenue" (35 mins, 2018) - Adopted at birth and raised in Louisiana, David Scotton is on a journey to Indiana to meet the birth parents he's never known, who anxiously wait for him, concerned David will reject them for decisions they made before he was born. A short documentary about a mother's agony in choosing what's best, the joy of a couple starting a family, and a young man's search for where his life began.

50th ANNIVERSARY MEMORIES

As we approach the 50th Anniversary of our Church on Central Avenue, we are asking those who have memories or stories to tell, pictures, keepsakes, etc. to please share them with the Rectory. We would like to compile a remembrance book of the time leading up to building the current church, and memories of the last 50 years.

PRIESTS FOR LIFE

"God did not make death ...for he fashioned all things that they might have being." This line from the first reading is not only an assertion that tells us something about God; it is a mandate for his people to stand against the power of death and to defend and promote life. Likewise, the raising of the dead girl to life, recounted in the Gospel passage, is not simply a story about what Jesus did; it is a summons to his people to do it again and again as they build a Culture of Life in the world.

One could ask, in the face of miracles like the raising of the dead, why Jesus did not do it more frequently. The answer is that his miracle was a sign of the meaning of his mission and ours. His occasional raising of the dead reveals the meaning of everything he is doing at every moment. He is reconciling humanity to God, and hence destroying the very source of death. In the end, all will rise – but they are called first to come to Christ, who is Life itself, and embrace that gift of natural and supernatural life.

We can say, therefore, that the pro-life movement is not simply a response to Roe vs. Wade. Rather, the prolife movement is a response to Jesus Christ. God is in the business of destroying death, and has done so through Christ. To stand with Christ is to stand with life, and therefore to stand against whatever destroys it. Nothing in our world destroys more life than abortion.

Some wonder why we would preach about abortion at Mass, or be concerned about what, in the eyes of some, is none of our business. Yet it is our business, because we serve a God who destroys death. We are the People of God and the People of Life. It is the business of love to save human lives. In the Mass, we literally touch the victory of life over death. What can be a more appropriate time and place to talk about it?

That's The Way It Is!

Next week we will celebrate the birthday of our nation on July 4. Given that the July 4 holiday is almost upon us I requested that the music ministry choose patriotic hymns for the weekend. I like to have patriotic hymns on Memorial Day weekend and the weekend before July 4. This is to honor our country, those who are in the armed services, law enforcement and emergency responders. It is also to pray for our country. Remember that in singing hymns of praise to God we are praying. That is why I end hymns with an "Amen." That is also why, when time permits, I like to do all the verses of the hymns. We don't cut off the Mass parts halfway through so why should we do it when we sing hymns? In honor of our country I also thought I would write an article examining two symbols of our country: the National Anthem and the flag.

One of the symbols of our nation and American ideals is the National Anthem. Our National Anthem did not actually become the National Anthem until as late as March 3, 1931 by an act of congress. The lyrics are from a poem written by Francis Scott Key during the Battle of Baltimore in the War of 1812. He was inspired to write the poem when he saw the "Star Spangled Banner" flying over Fort McHenry. At the time our nation's flag had 15 stars and 15 stripes. The tune was composed by John Stafford Smith and was a popular British tune. In America people simply set the tune to the poem, and renamed it "The Star Spangled Banner." It was a popular patriotic song before it became our National Anthem. Before the Star Spangled Banner became our official National Anthem, "My Country Tis of Thee," set to the British tune of "God Save the Queen", was sort of like an unofficial National Anthem. "America The Beautiful" was also popular as a sort of unofficial National Anthem.

Many people may not realize that there are actually four verses or stanzas to our National Anthem. When singing the National Anthem we usually only sing the first of four. If you have ever actually looked at the final verse of the first stanza you would see that the stanza concludes: "O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?" Did you notice that the stanza concludes with a question mark? The second and third stanzas "O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave." conclude with periods. The final stanza "O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!" concludes with an exclamation point. I do not pretend to be an English major, and I certainly do not pretend to understand poetry. However, the punctuation by Key does have meaning. What does it mean? As a non poetry major, I cannot say for certain. To me it suggests that when he starts the poem he is trying to provoke a feeling of the uncertainty of how the war will end. By the end of the poem he is trying to provoke a feeling of great hope and pride that the cause of Liberty will triumph. There is no doubt that America is the land of the free and the home of the brave. The stanzas of our National Anthem are beautiful. I suggest that you read them when you find the time. Just "Google" the National Anthem.

Another symbol of our nation is the flag. The colors, the stripes, the stars all have meaning. There are 50 stars which represent the 50 states. The flag has 13 stripes. These stripes represent the original 13 colonies. The color blue symbolizes vigilance, perseverance and justice. Red symbolizes hardness and valor. White symbolizes innocence and purity. The flag is also known as "Old Glory" "The Star Spangled Banner" and "The Stars and Stripes." From what I can tell, the design of our flag has remained fairly constant over the years. Any changes in flag design seem limited to the area with the stars. Obviously the number of stars has increased since the first flag was designed. The way the stars are arranged has also changed over time. The stars were sometimes arranged in a circle, sometimes they were arranged in a star shape, sometimes off set. Today they are arranged in a square shape. Betsy Ross is credited with sewing the first flag from a design given to her by George Washington. It would seem, however that the story is apocryphal. Apparently there are several contenders for who designed the first flag. Francis Hopkinson of New Jersey is one and Rebecca Young is another. Legend has it that the origin of the stripes was from the Washington Family coat of arms.

As you prepare to celebrate your July 4 holiday, remember that we can celebrate the birth of our nation and our freedom because there are people willing to step up to the plate and defend the cause of liberty. Pray for those in the armed services, law enforcement and emergency responders. Freedom is a wonderful gift, but freedom is not free. Thank God for the freedoms we enjoy and do not take them for granted. Say a prayer for our nation as well. May God Bless America: land of the free and home of the brave!

Happy Fourth of July! Enjoy your day! The Reverend David W. Bechtel

REMEMBER ALL THE BEAUTIFUL THINGS GOD HAS DONE FOR US

How many beautiful things has God done for you? We must take time to reflect on this and remember them....

Pope Francis gave this invitation as he continued his catecheses on the Commandments.

Reminding that gratitude is a characteristic trait of "the heart visited by the Holy Spirit," Francis noted: Where does all this lead us? To perform a memory test...' "How many beautiful things has God done for each one of us! How generous is our heavenly Father. I would now like to propose a little exercise to you, in silence: each person answer in his or her own heart. How many beautiful things has God done for me?

"In silence, each one of us, answers. How many beautiful things has God done for me? And this is God's liberation. God does many beautiful things and frees us." "God thinks of me." "The liberating action of God placed at the beginning of the Decalogue – that is, the commandments – is the answer to this lament," the Pope said.

"We do not save ourselves, by ourselves, but from us there comes a cry for help: "Lord, save me; Lord, show me the way; Lord, caress me; Lord, give me a little joy". This is a cry for help. This depends on us: asking to be freed from selfishness, from sin, from the chains of slavery." This cry is important, Francis said, because it is prayer, it is awareness of that which is still oppressed and not freed in us.

"God awaits that cry, because He can and He wants to break our chains; God has not called us to life to remain oppressed, but to be free and to live in gratitude, obeying with joy He Who has given us so much, infinitely more than what we can give to Him." Stressing that this is beautiful, Pope Francis prayed that God always be blessed for all that He has done, does and will do in us.

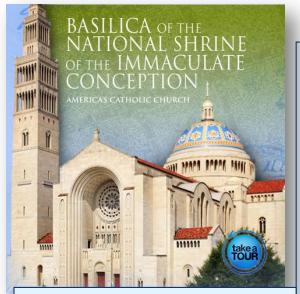

"God gave the Commandments to His People after having liberated them from slavery, demonstrating in this way the generosity of His paternal Love." "God desires to dissolve all our chains to live life and the Commandments, not with the spirit of slavery, but with the freedom of being children."

HOW IS YOUR FAITH?

Pope called on all faithful to ask themselves some questions: "how is my faith? Is it a joyful faith, or is it always the same faith, a "flat" faith? I have a sense of amazement when I see the works of the Lord, when I hear about the evangelization or the life of a saint, or when I see many good people: do I feel grace inside, or is there nothing moving in my heart? Can I feel the consolations of the Spirit or am I closed?"

"Let us ask each of us, in an examination of conscience: How is my faith? Is it joyous? Is it open to God's surprises? Because God is the God of surprises.
