Prayer for Lent

Lord Jesus, by your cross and resurrection you have set us free. During this Lent, lead us by your Holy Spirit to live more faithfully in Christian freedom. Through prayer, increased charity, and the disciplines of this sacred season, draw us closer to you. Purify the intentions of our hearts so all our Lenten observances give you praise and glory. Grant that through our words and actions, we may be faithful messengers of the gospel message to a world in need of the hope of your mercy. Amen.

ST. THOMAS/ST. CATHERINE MASS SCHEDULE

Saturday 7:00pm, St. Catherine, Westfield

Sunday 11:30am, St. Thomas, Elkland

Liturgical Reflection

Fourth Sunday of Lent

FIRST READING: Joshua 5:9, 10-12

The First Reading continues the series of readings on the important moments of salvation history that we have heard about over the past few weeks. This week we hear the first celebration of the Passover in the Promised Land. This is a moment of celebration, for the people could now grow their own crops and depend upon their own efforts to provide for their needs and not have to depend upon the manna that the Lord provided. This is also a moment of danger, however, for the people could henceforth begin to believe that they were masters of their own destiny.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM: 34

The Responsorial Psalm is a celebration of God's goodness. We have been given an opportunity during Lent to turn back to his ways. That is an experience that should fill us with joy. Lent is not a time for grief and gloom. It is a season of renewal and rebirth. We are given two choices in the Psalm; we can blush with shame if we refuse to use this Lenten season well, or we can look to God with faces that are radiant with joy. God is always willing to hear our call, but we have to be willing to call out.

SECOND READING: 2 Corinthians 5:17-21

The Second Reading continues the theme of renewal. We hear that Christ died so that we might be reconciled to God. Jesus paid the price for our sins. Paul says that Jesus became sin, meaning that he took the curse of our sins upon himself. He put the old ways of selfishness and alienation to death. Now we have to choose life and love.

GOSPEL: Luke 15:1-3, 11-32

The Gospel presents the beautiful parable of the Prodigal son. It is easy to take this story for granted, for we have heard it so often. The parable is above all the story of the boundless love of a Father, who offers his repentant child the gift of reunion and unconditional reconciliation. The prodigal son, in his anxiety over conversion, in his longing to return to the family home and be forgiven, represents those who long for reconciliation on all levels and without reserve. The parable spotlights the older son's selfishness. In his jealousy he chooses to stay outside the party. This reminds us of the need for a change of heart and mind through the rediscovery of the Father's mercy, the need for laying aside misunderstanding and hostile feelings. The older son is an incentive to look inside ourselves and consider to what extent we may block the unity and reconciliation in the family. Each one of us at the same time is prodigal son and older brother. How joyful will we be if our greatest enemy is pardoned by God? True love does not rejoice in bad things that happen to others, but rather only rejoices in the good.

LENDING LIBRARY

A lending library can be found at the carport entrance of the church and available to all parishioners.

TENEBRAE SERVICE

What is a Tenebrae service? The Latin word "tenebrae" means darkness." The Tenebrae is an ancient Christian Good Friday service that makes use of gradually diminishing light through the extinguishing of candles to symbolize the events of that week from the triumphant Palm Sunday entry through Jesus' burial. This increasing darkness symbolizes the approaching darkness of Jesus' death and of hopelessness in the world without God. The service concludes in darkness, sometimes with a final candle, the Christ candle, carried out of the sanctuary, symbolizing the death of Jesus. A loud noise may also sound symbolizing the closing of Jesus' tomb. The worshipers then leave in silence to ponder the impact of Christ's death and await the coming Resurrection. Join us on Good Friday at 7:00pm for this moving service.

That's The Way It Is

This Sunday, the Fourth Sunday of Lent, is "Laetare Sunday." The name comes from the entrance antiphon for the Mass "Rejoice (Laetare) Jerusalem...be joyful all who were in mourning." We have now passed the midway point through the Season of Lent and look forward to Easter. The austerity and penance of Lent is lighter today. We take a break from the penitential character of the season if only a little. Liturgically, however we still omit the Gloria and do not sing the "Alleluia" until Easter. Flowers are permitted to adorn the altar today. This is one of the two times in the liturgical year where a special colored vestment may be worn to mark the Sunday: Mauve.

My favorite part about this Sunday is that liturgical norms state that the "organ may be played more fully." Some organists during Lent, including me, tone down the organ. To put it laymen's terms: the stops that make the organ fun are not used during Lent. On this special Sunday, we might use one or two of the fun stops in anticipation of Easter. As an aside: I am having the organ dealer install two more stops on the organ. The first will be marked "Dispose of complainer 'too loud.'" When pulled, this stop activates a mechanical mechanism that ejects the complainer from the Church. The second stop will be marked "Drown out the congregation." Suffice it to say that on Easter Sunday, I will be using that stop! Don't complain that the organ is too loud or it will force me to use the other stop.

The Season of Advent has an equivalent Sunday: "Gaudete Sunday." This is the Third Sunday of Advent. The name comes from the entrance antiphon of the Mass: "Rejoice (Gaudete) in the Lord always; again I say rejoice. Indeed, the Lord is near." It is on this Sunday that we light the Mauve colored candle. This is the other time in the liturgical year when the Mauve colored vestment may be worn.

Why Mauve? Liturgically, the color Purple is a penitential color. It is a darker color symbolizing an absence of light but not all light. Black is the absence of all light. The color Black may be used on the Feast of All Souls and at funerals to symbolize mourning and grief. But that is the only time the color Black may be used liturgically. We are children of the light even though we are sinners. The color Purple symbolizes that we are never truly in darkness as children of the light, but nonetheless we are marred by darkness of sin. The color Mauve is a brighter color meant to symbolize the light of God breaking into and illuminating the darkness. Note that the color White is not used until Easter. Mauve, then, symbolizes a lessening of the penance of Lent. It is meant to suggest a feeling of anticipation: "We are almost there. The light is getting brighter..." Of course, on Easter, we are bathed in and overcome by the glory of the Resurrection, the light of God that has overcome once and for all the darkness of sin and death. Hence the color White is worn to liturgically symbolize this.

In the northern hemisphere, we enter the Season of Advent during the darkest time of the year. The color Mauve can also symbolize the first streaks of dawn. Christ our light is coming and is almost here. Romans 12:13: "The night is far spent, the day is at hand. Therefore let us cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armor of light." The color Mauve helps to symbolize the fact that it may still be dark, but the darkness of night is about to give way to the light of a new dawn: the birth of Christ. The birth of Christ marks a new beginning in human history. God has taken on human flesh. God lives, walks and is part of His own creation. God has joined humanity to Himself in the Incarnation. In the Season of Lent, the darkness of night is not just about to give way to the light of a new dawn, the darkness of night is about to give way to endless light and endless life. In the Resurrection, Christ passes over from death to life; Christ is the sun that never sets.

This Sunday marks two weeks before Holy Week, 21 days until Easter Sunday. We are about to enter into the most sacred time of the year. God's greatest act of love and God's greatest triumph is almost upon us.

That's the way it is,

The Rev. David W. Bechtel, Pastor

Lord, this we know, no matter how difficult life may be at this time, we know you will not stop loving us and will always hold us in the palm of your hand. We are reaching to you, Lord, to hold us, comfort us, and heal us. Lord, this we know, you are faithful in your love for us today and forever. You are with us, and we are with you. Amen.
