Liturgical Reflection

FIRST READING: Acts 10:34, 37-43

Jesus of Nazareth, anointed by God with the Holy Spirit, healed many people. He was put to death but was raised by God. We have seen him and have eaten with him. He has sent us to preach this Good News. And this is the truth we speak to you today: "Everyone who believes in him will receive forgiveness of sins through his name." Peter took a very bold step that day to broaden the mission of the followers of Jesus. Because of the vision he received, Peter had come to believe that all people were to be included in the great work of preaching the story of Jesus Christ. The Good News could not and should not be contained, for it is meant for all time.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM: Psalm 118

More verses of the song of victory, Psalm 118, are heard in this reading. God's mercy is not a one-time reality; it endures across the ages. God will protect those who believe, who are rescued through his power. The final verse, in which the rejected stone is mentioned, is recited by Jesus in reference to himself in the Gospel accounts of Matthew, Mark, and Luke. Jesus has not fit the blueprint expected for the rebuilding of God's house.

SECOND READING: Colossians 3:1-4

The Colossians reading urges us to die to self in order to focus on the Lord, for having been baptized in Christ, the concerns of the world should diminish in meaning. For those who are caught up in the things of this world, however, this reading is an invitation to reorder our lives. On the day of glory, the worldly things that can consume human hearts will have no significance.

GOSPEL: John 20:1-9

Mary Magdalene is the first person at the tomb in all four Gospel accounts. In the synoptic accounts, she brings oil to anoint the body of the Lord. In John's account, the anointing has already taken place, but Mary is still the first person on record to go to the tomb. She is the messenger who then brings Peter and the Beloved Disciple to see the stone has been moved. There are not angels in this story to suggest that a body has inexplicably been raised. There are only cloths that lay on the ground, the head cloth arranged in a separate place, all to indicate that this is not the scene of a robbery. In those first moments, what it all means is unclear, and only the Beloved Disciple "saw and believed." Time and future appearances of the Lord will add believers to the community. As we gather on this Easter day, we remember and celebrate that Jesus is indeed risen and walks among us still. Yet, it is only with eyes of faith that we recognize him – in the breaking of bread, in the preaching of his Word, and in the presence of his people gathered in his name.

ABOUT THIS SUNDAY

Easter Sunday marks the end of the Triduum and is the first day of the Easter Octave. The great 50 days begin. Forty days of fast yield to fifty days of feast. After many weeks of penitential preparation, we now celebrate the defeat of sin and death and the victory of love. We use the word "Alleluia" for the first time since Lent began in order to celebrate and participate in that victory. Our participation in the liturgy, on this day, is our participation in the salvation won for us and made present for us. Therefore, it is on this day that God, through his only begotten Son, has "conquered death and unlocked for us the path to eternity."

That's The Way It Is

Happy Easter! It has been one long Lent, but at long last, Easter has come. The Season of Easter will last for 50 days. The Feast of Pentecost on Sunday June 9 will close the Easter Season. Then, we begin my most favorite season of all: Ordinary Time. Yes, after Mass on Sunday June 9, we begin the dog days of Ordinary Time. How appropriate that by then, we will also be beginning the dog days of summer. Life is good.

The Resurrection of Christ, which we celebrate in a unique way today, is a historical event. Some modern Scripture scholarship, especially the scholarship steeped in the Jesus Seminar denies the historicity of the Resurrection claiming that the Resurrection is a metaphor for the rise of Easter Faith in the hearts of the disciples of Jesus. The idea that the Resurrection is a metaphor is absurd. Ironically, noted atheist Christopher Hitchens pointed this out in a discussion with a liberal Unitarian minister Marylin Sewell. Here is an excerpt from the discussion:

Sewell: "The religion you cite in your book is generally the fundamentalist faith of various kinds. I'm a liberal Christian, and I don't take the stories from the scripture literally. I don't believe in the doctrine of atonement (that Jesus died for our sins, for example). Do you make a distinction between fundamentalist faith and liberal religion?"

[Note that for Sewell if you take the Bible seriously, if you believe what the Bible says, if you believe that the Resurrection is a historical event, this makes you a Christian fundamentalist]

Hitchens: "I would say that if you don't believe that Jesus of Nazareth was the Christ and Messiah, and that he rose again from the dead and by his sacrifice our sins are forgiven, you're really not in any meaningful sense a Christian."

To that, I say: "Amen Mr. Hitchens, Amen!" I might disagree with Hitchens' atheism. One thing I can say about Hitchens is that he knows what it means to be a Christian. It is ironic in this discussion that the atheist knows better than the purported Christian what it means to be a Christian. If the Resurrection didn't actually happen in history, what are we all doing here this morning? If I didn't believe in a historical resurrection, I would not have bothered getting out of bed this morning to celebrate Mass. For that matter I wouldn't bother getting out of bed any Sunday morning to celebrate Mass. I would not bother being Christian, much less a priest.

Without the Resurrection, without the death of Christ, Christianity is worthless. The most important point you can take with you as you leave church today is that Jesus Christ is truly Risen. This is a historical event and a historical fact. The wedding feast of the Lamb has begun and his bride is prepared to welcome Him. This is the Passover of the Lamb. Jesus Christ has passed over from death to life. Jesus Christ is the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. Once He was dead, but now He lives to die no more. Jesus Christ is light and life, Jesus Christ is our life. Jesus Christ holds the keys of life and death. Jesus Christ lives that death and sin may die. O happy fault! O necessary sin of Adam, which gained for us so great a savior! What good would life have been had we not been redeemed? What good is life, what good is our Faith, what good is Christianity without the Resurrection?

Jesus is LORD, Jesus is LIFE, Jesus is RISEN!
Happy Easter!

That's the way it is,

The Rev. David W. Bechtel, Pastor

Priests for Life

Life is Victorious! "Jesus Christ our King is Risen! Sound the trumpet of salvation!" (Easter Exsultet). Today is the Feast of Feasts, the foundation of all that we celebrate in our faith. By rising from the dead, Jesus did not only conquer his death; he conquered ours. He overturned the entire kingdom of death! He has opened the way to the true destiny of the human person: to be on the throne of God forever, in life that knows no end! Because of this, we are the People of Life. We seek to apply the victory of Jesus over death to the problems of our day. We are a pro-life people, and reject the false solutions of abortion and euthanasia. Rather, we say yes to every life, no matter how vulnerable or burdensome. It is an Easter yes; it is a yes filled with hope. This is the day the Lord has made; let us rejoice and be glad!

News from the Vatican

PRAY WITH COURAGE, PUTTING IT ALL ON THE LINE

Pope Francis invites us to pray courageously to the Lord and invited the faithful to pray face-to-face to the Lord, bringing all our lives to Him with courage.

Pray with boldness - “Much courage is needed to pray. And we are often lukewarm... True prayer is this: with the Lord. And when I need to intercede, I need to do so with courage. In common parlance, people use an expression that I really like when they have a goal: ‘I put it all on the line’... But perhaps the doubt may arise: ‘I do it, but how do I know the Lord listens to me?’ We have a certainty: Jesus. He is the great intercessor.” Pope Francis said prayer requires parrhesia – boldness or freedom of speech – to address the Lord with courage.

The Pope gave the examples of several Biblical figures who excelled at intercessory prayer: Moses, Abraham, Hannah, and the Canaanite woman.

He said they laid it all on the line to obtain their desires. “At times, when we see how these people struggle with the Lord to obtain something, we think it’s as if they were arm-wrestling with God, but they arrive at what they are requesting.” They pray so forcefully, said the Pope, because they have faith that the Lord can fulfill their desires.

Jesus intercedes for us - Pope Francis reminded the faithful that Jesus has ascended to Heaven and intercedes for us before the Father, just as he had promised Peter before the Passion. “Jesus prays for us, in this moment. And when I pray – whether I am convinced or pray like a mercantilist or stutter or struggle with the Lord – it is He who takes my prayer and presents it to the Lord. Jesus has no need of speaking before the Father: He shows Him His wounds. The Father sees His wounds and extends His grace. When we pray, let us recall that we do so with Jesus. Jesus is our courage. Jesus is our security, who in this moment intercedes for us.”

Lord, this we know, no matter how difficult life may be at this time, we know you will not stop loving us and will always hold us in the palm of your hand. We are reaching to you, Lord, to hold us, comfort us, and heal us. Lord, this we know, you are faithful in your love for us today and forever. You are with us, and we are with you. Amen.
