

THE LONDON WINE FAIR IN PICTURES

5th June, 2014 by Lauren May

← Previous

Slideshow 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15

Next →

The JP Ramos team also had this rather quirky offering, Smart Dog Syrah. Produced in the Alentejo this RRP £7.99 offering is aimed at the UK independent sector – and shows that Portugal is shedding its reputation for rather conservative, old fashioned packaging.

IF THAT'S INTERESTING, HOW ABOUT THESE?

Manzi to host free wine masterclass at LWF

Ahead of a special masterclass on the wines of Emilia Romagna at this year's more...

Top 10 new products in June

A host of drinks categories launched an array of products this month – from more...

Future MWs invited to IMW masterclass

Wine trade professionals will have the chance to gain an insight into the more...

Wine Trade Sales Manager
London, United Kingdom
OTE £50k+ - Basic £25k plus commission

Last call to register for Alsace trade fair

The second bi-annual international trade fair for the wines of Alsace will take more...

1863 launch follows growing tawny demand

Taylor's managing director highlighted a growing demand