

Morgan Ford Willingham

---

BIO

Morgan Ford Willingham is a photographic artist who incorporates mixed media and book arts into her photographic practice. Originally from South Carolina, she currently teaches photography at Emporia State University in Emporia, KS. Her work addresses social issues dealing with women's self-image through the examination of the impact of advertising and societal pressures, as well as recently delving into the experiences of motherhood and observing childhood.