

The Akuter Cards
Ref: HEALTH-001 -E

Health and Safety

Are your procedures and training protecting your people and your organization?

Sectors such as transport, construction and natural resources are at high-risk if the issues of health and safety are not correctly approached. Training and tracking are key elements to continuously improve the level of safety of the workers.

In fact health and safety compliance concerns all sectors including administrations.

Akuter Enterprise not only tracks and records all the activity of training and certification in detail but also manages the transactions between the Server and the users, anytime, anywhere.

Since they are connected directly to the enterprise's resources, such as standard operational procedures, forms or media, people who must receive training or certification are always accessing the last version of a document or of other resources.

Each group of employees receives prescheduled assignments and supervisors know step by step of their progress. It is now easy to anticipate lack of certified people or non compliance risks. When a new regulation is released employees will automatically receive an assignment to a program that will update them.

Implement Akuter and your company will be providing a better and safer work environment.

Do not take the risk to be confronted with an audit or an investigation without having put all the trumps on your side.

Without counting the serious consequences for your company that can be related to workplace accidents which could have possibly been avoided.

At the very least be able to prove that all was done to prevent them.