Bob Harris
Chairman—Harris Management Group, Inc.
There are more than one million non-profit organizations in the United States and Bob has studied thousands of them to develop “best practices”. His career started with Presidential Classroom in Washington, DC and from there he went on to build an association management company in Tallahassee, Florida. He is on the faculty for the US Chamber of Commerce and works with the US State Department to promote associations in the country of Jordan. He has authored several books on association management. To evaluate organizations he wrote the Association Self-Auditing Process which has been used by over 10,000 organizations. He believes that non-profit organizations can run as efficiently as any franchise. Local, state and national organizations have recognized him with awards for professional development and promoting excellence. He has worked for Hyatt Hotels of Florida for 23 years. His tips and templates for making management easier are available free on his website www.nonprofitcenter.com. Bob’s career passions are demonstrated in two principles; promoting the impact of non-profits in America and sharing the tools for success. Bob will provide insight into building a stronger staff-volunteer relationship as he presents examples, tips, tools and templates. He will present practical, relevant information to make executive staff and volunteer leaders more effective partners in leading your Chamber. You won’t want to miss this very informative presentation.
