Assess the Organization’s Performance

The 48-page manual guides you through an inventory and assessment of information, documents, insurance, risks, systems and operations --- covering everything from boards and committees to finances and marketing. The SIXTH EDITION includes technology section (software, computers) and promotes voluntary compliance with Sarbanes Oxley.

Ideal for streamlining, documenting, and making improvements while reducing risks. A tool for training new staff and organizational benchmarking. Perfect for the new executive director.

Use at your own pace, individually or with a team of staff for cross-training. A proven learning and organizational tool.

- An assessment of the information and systems supporting your organization – whether it was established decades ago or is a brand new entity.
- Ideal for the new CEO to evaluate operations as he or she takes on management responsibilities.
- Complete in-take system for association management companies.
- Ideal for training new employees about nonprofit operations and customer-member service.
- Increases board confidence and answers their question, “how are we doing?”
- A resource for managing chapters effectively and without risks.
