

All Is Well

I have lived and lied

I have loved and cried

I have walked through my life

Tasted self-sacrifice and pride

I have weathered the storm

Filled with joy or forlorn inside

But all is well with my heart

Yes all is well with my heart

Friends have come and gone

Battles lost and won

I have journeyed along

Been in love or alone, but now

As I look down the years

This one thing is clear somehow

That all is well with my heart

Yes all is well with my heart
