MAVWA is a membership organization open to all. Its mission is to promote fiber from all fiber-bearing animals—especially those in Colorado, New Mexico, and Texas—and to pass on the rich history of the fiber-related crafts to the next group of fiber enthusiasts.

MAVWA produces the Taos Wool Festival—celebrating its 33rd year—as well as other activities that promote fiber production and fiber products in Colorado, New Mexico and Texas.

PAM RAMSEY
IN MEMORIUM

Earlier this year, MAVWA was devastated by the loss of one of our long-standing members. Pam Ramsey of La Plata Farms left us after a courageous three-year battle with cancer. Pam and her husband, Doug, met when Doug went to work for Pam’s father. After they’d both gone to college, the couple were married and eventually settled down on quiet piece of Pam’s family farm, overlooking the La Plata Mountains.

Pam’s love of spinning, fiber, and everything wool-related began in 1982 when a nearby sheep rancher approached her with the opportunity to adopt a trio of lambs who had been orphaned. Her decision to take those lambs in ignited a lifelong passion that would eventually lead Pam to become an accomplished spinner, as well as a master of dyeing and blending fibers.

Though an ill-timed car accident prevented Pam and Doug from attending the very first Taos Wool Festival in 1984, they never missed another festival. Pam loved to reminisce about the early days of the festival. With only a handful of vendors scattered around the field, many vendors sold out of the back of their trucks. Pam and Doug sold their wares out of a 2’x4’ box booth with a blue tarp attached to the back of their Subaru. Over the following years, Doug and Pam were there to watch the festival blossom and grow to what it has become today.

Over the years, Doug and Pam both served on the MAVWA board for six years a piece. In 1988, we almost lost Pam when she and her daughter Cassie were involved in a crash while driving over Wolf Creek Pass to a Taos Board meeting.

Pam and Cassie joined up to run the Kids Hands-On program for a number of years, passing their vast knowledge of fiber techniques onto the youngest Wool Festival patrons. Pam also took charge of marketing and advertising for the festival for many years.

In addition to the time she dedicated to the Taos Wool Festival, she used her talents for spinning, dyeing and other fiber related techniques to teach people of all ages throughout the southwest. While her children were active in their local 4-H club, Pam was a well-loved leader. She also taught guild classes and classes out of her own home. Throughout the years, she invited students from several schools to attend hands-on lessons about fiber and farm life at La Plata Farms, even inviting a Montessori school from Denver to come have lessons at the family farm for several days. I first met Pam in the mid 90’s when she taught my own girls to spin for their 4-H project. Though the classes were for my kids, her enthusiasm soon inspired something inside of me, and I learned to spin as well. To this day, that passion that she ignited inside of me has not burned out.

...and I am far from the only one; Pam spread her knowledge and love for fiber to people of all ages, and from all walks of life. Her passion and commitment to teaching others about the joys of fiber and fiber arts continues in all of those who she mentored including several of the vendors here at the 2016 Taos Wool Festival. She will live on in the fiber work of those she mentored, and the countless souls that she has inspired throughout the years.

MAVWA was recently the fortunate recipient of a collection of photographic prints, made at the festival from the mid-eighties to early nineties.

We have chosen a few that best show how much the festival has changed.

Many thanks to lifetime member Roy Dow, for donating the photos.

"THIS WAS LONG BEFORE THE DAYS OF EZ-UPS AND CUSTOM SHELVING, AND ALL THE TRADE SHOW FIXTURES YOU SEE NOW. MOST BOOTHs WERE TARPS AND METAL FRAMES AND SOME PEOPLE PULLED IN WITH A TRAILER LOAD OF WOOL AND CALLED IT GOOD. BOOTHs WERE SET UP IN KIT CARSON PARK WHEREVER YOU WANTED TO BE, NO REAL RHYME OR REASON."
