The play: Gun-Shy and Art Exhibition

J City Theater Gallery Exhibition Featuring Artworks: Daniel Brophy & Nelson Alvarez at the underground theater

The exhibition explores the relationships between the deformities of our memories; a vision of city life within an industrialized landscape. A contraction of infatuated and interrupted memories, visions of lives that surround the exterior and interiors of our cities. Buildings that within their walls contain the silent, but particular history of someone and perhaps, we may find ourselves looking back into these pictures and discover bits and pieces of our own struggles.

This show proposes an exploration upon the excessive consumption and industrialization of our society, exploring the notion of city landscapes as history of our collective memory.

A perfect complement to Gun-Shy the play, “a barred comedy about marriage, divorce, infidelity, infertility, incompatibility, eternal love, household accidents, and diets that no one should ever try.” J City theater.
