IS-700: National Incident Management System (NIMS), An Introduction
Audience All personnel with a direct role in emergency management/response must complete NIMS IS-700, including: Executive level – political and government leaders; agency and organization administrators and department heads; personnel that fill ICS roles as unified commanders, Command Staff, or General Staff in either area command or single incidents; senior MACS personnel; senior emergency managers; and emergency operations center Command or General Staff. Managerial level – agency and organization management between the executive level and first-level supervision; personnel who fill ICS roles as Branch Directors, Division/Group Supervisors, Unit Leaders, technical specialists, strike team and task force leaders, single resource leaders, and field supervisors; midlevel MACS personnel; EOC Section Chiefs, Branch Directors, Unit Leaders, and other emergency management/response personnel who require a higher level of ICS/NIMS training. Responder level – emergency response providers and disaster workers, entry level to managerial level, including emergency medical service personnel; firefighters; medical personnel; police officers; public health personnel; public work/utility personnel; and other emergency management response personnel.

IS-800: National Response Framework (NRF, An Introduction

Audience

All Federal, State, Tribal and local emergency management/response personnel whose primary responsibility is emergency management must complete this training. Specifically, officials who must take the course include:

Personnel in Federal departments and agencies with emergency management and incident response responsibilities under the NRF.

Officials in State and Territorial governments with emergency management and incident response responsibilities, personnel from emergency management agencies, and personnel from agencies who support and interact with the NRF's 15 Emergency Support Functions and Support Annexes.

Officials in tribal entities and local jurisdictions with overall emergency management responsibilities as dictated by law or ordinance, officials with overall emergency management responsibilities through delegation, and officials primarily involved in emergency planning.

ICS-100: Introduction to the Incident Command System

Audience

It is incumbent upon Federal, State, tribal, and local emergency management/response personnel who within their organizations requires ICS-100 training, based on local incident management organizational planning.

Responder level – emergency response providers and disaster workers, entry level to managerial level, including emergency medical service personnel; firefighters; medical personnel; police officers; public health personnel; public work/utility personnel; and other emergency management response personnel.

Typically, all Federal, State, tribal, local, private-sector, and non-governmental personnel at the following levels of responsibility in emergency management and incident response operations: first-line supervisor, mid-level management and command and general staff.

ICS-200: ICS for Single Resources and Initial Action Incidents
Audience It is incumbent upon Federal, State, tribal, and local emergency management/response personnel to determine who within their organization requires ICS-200 training, based on local incident management organizational planning. Typically, all Federal, State, tribal, local, private-sector, and non-governmental personnel at the following levels of responsibility in emergency management and incident response operations: first-line supervisor, mid-level management and command and general staff.
ICS-300: Intermediate ICS
Audience Federal, State, tribal and local emergency management/response personnel determine who within their organizations requires ICS-300 training, based on local incident management organizational planning.
