Objective—

Being able to alleviate stress that people are under and actually help them achieve a creative solution that they didn't even see as a possibility is incredibly rewarding. I am acutely aware that there are retired judges and attorneys with years of legal experience acting as mediators who simply cannot bring two parties in conflict to a place of mutual agreement the way I have. In addition to my degree in Psychology from Harvard and 30 years experience as an actress, my neutrality and genuine support make each party feel comfortable, causing the parties to feel like their solution best serves their interests.
