Objective—

It is common knowledge that the litigated alternative is time consuming, costly, and rarely results in dispositions even marginally acceptable to both parties. I believe that the collaborative process of mediation—properly managed with the use of evaluative and facilitative techniques—offers the most respectful, efficient, and least damaging opportunity for resolution.

Experience—

2011 – Present / Mediator with Agency for Dispute Resolution (Beverly Hills, California)

- Affiliated with Agency for Dispute Resolution.

1995 – Present / Owner of The McCaslin Company (Century City, California)

- Full service real estate company specializing in commercial leasing and investment. Has over 1.5 million square feet of Class A space under lease management in Century City and Westwood, California.
- Serves as the Southern California representative for JMB Realty of Chicago, one of the largest real estate development and investment firms in the country. Participates in the analysis and underwriting of acquisitions under consideration.

1988 – 1995 / Senior Vice President of JMB Realty Corporation (Century City, California)
