

David W. Kent AIA

Principal

David Kent brings to KTGy over twenty-five years of architectural and construction experience. He has worked with both major home builders as well as major architectural firms and has successfully run his own design firm.

Mr. Kent's technical knowledge of construction brings valuable insight to his architectural designs, which is reflected in the success and awards won by many of the projects he is involved with. He has an extensive background in construction costs, project scheduling and governmental processing. His current focus is working with developers in California, Nevada and Arizona to create exciting new residential communities.
