VINTAGE 2008

Early frost made for a harrowing start, but reduced yields and a sunny summer made 2008 another fine growing season, evident in the lush fruit and excellent structure of the wine. May cellar for 10+ years.

BY INSIDERS, FOR INSIDERS

Punch Cabernet Sauvignon is made by a small group of Napa Valley artisans from prestigious vintners whose careers have been built making top-rated wines that are too expensive even for us. One day, in an oddly practical moment, we thought, “Hey, why not use our knowledge and contacts to make a great wine that we and our friends can actually afford.” The ‘who’s who’ of some of our group and where they work must remain a trade secret. Punch Vineyards is very proud of its California roots. Hence our mascot Punch, the California grizzly. He’s a bighearted insider with a knack for nosing out the best fruit – an uncanny sense of taste.

CLASSIC STYLE, SMOOTH FINISH

Punch Vineyards has all the hallmarks of luxury Cabernet Sauvignons that sell for much higher prices: deep concentration, complex black cherry, blackberry, mocha and other classic flavors, and firm structure. We particularly strive for a smooth, luscious texture, and a lively finish. It took us many years to secure sources that allow us to do this at an approachable price, but our motto – Mereto – means, “You have to earn it.”

HILLSIDE VINEYARDS - THE FIRST “SUPER-CALIFORNIAN”

We choose hillside vineyards because slope makes ordinary vineyards extraordinary by draining away nutrients and water, lowering yields and forcing the grapes to build character. We pick up extra lots from our colleagues’ wineries, home vineyards, and other insider locations, mostly in Napa Valley and Sonoma. So don’t be fooled by the California appellation on our label. We’re betting that Punch quality speaks for itself and that our customers won’t care that we don’t have an expensive address – or price.
