Co-Investigator Wallace Foundation	AWARDED (2016-2017) San Diego, CA
--	--------------------------------------

With San Diego State University, the Department of Educational Leadership applied for funding for the University Principal Preparation Initiative from the Wallace Foundation. With one of six awards to be granted, the focus is to create a new—and better—norm for principal pre-service training in the 700+university programs nationally, based on what we have learned over the last 15 years about what makes for effective principals. The question the initiative seeks to answer is: How can university principal preparation programs—working in partnership with high-needs school districts, exemplary preparation programs and the state—improve their training so it reflects the evidence on how best to prepare effective principals? Amount: About $6,000,000

Military Families Learning Network: Next Generation Learning for our Families Across the Globe

The Military Families Learning Network (MFLN) project focuses on the development of a robust, collaborative online platform that provides professional development and training for military support professionals around the world. The platform is designed to establish a community of practice in which the participants engage in a process of collective learning. The platform will host online courses in eight targeted concentration areas (i.e. personal finance, family development, military caregiving, network literacy, nutrition and wellness, support for special needs, community capacity building, and transition support for families). Additionally, a two-day virtual learning event (virtual conference) will offer additional professional development associated with the concentration areas, which will be recorded and archived for on-demand access. Goal: Provide continuous education opportunities for geographically dispersed military helping/support professionals through access to e-learning courses, online training sessions, social networking, and virtual learning events. $1,926,770

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE

- VISITING SCHOLAR November, 2013
American Embassy School New Delhi, India
Serve as a scholar in residence at the American Embassy School. I worked directly with leaders, technology coordinators, and teachers on various research initiatives.
- GRANT WRITER 2007
Seward Incorporated Minneapolis, MN
As a grant writer, assisted in writing educational research grants from the Institute of Educational Sciences (IES). Examples include one grant that focused on reading comprehension strategies and another grant focused on creating concept map evaluation software. Researched, wrote, and collaborated with numerous authors to produce grant proposals under a tight schedule.
- ASSISTANT GRANT EVALUATOR 2005-2007
University of Minnesota Minneapolis, MN
Served as an assistant grant evaluator with the Department of Education Policy and Administration at the University of Minnesota on a $1.8 million grant from the United States Department of Education. The grant aimed at implementing smaller learning communities in Rochester Public Schools. Conducted evaluations, wrote evaluation reports, and reported findings to the schools, the school district, and the funding agency.
- RESEARCH ASSISTANT 2005
World Bank Minneapolis, MN
Working with a World Bank consultant, updated existing document entitled "Lost potential: Women and tertiary education in Africa." Researched, located, and disaggregated relevant statistics for this report. Updated and wrote updated literature review to be included in this seminal report.
- RESEARCH ASSISTANT 2005
USAID Minneapolis, MN
Working with a USAID consultant, I reviewed literature on peace education, peace keeping, conflict resolution, and child soldiers in post-conflict nations. Wrote literature reviews for this desk study to inform policy recommendations to international development agencies and government policy makers related to education and its contribution to resolving conflict and maintaining peace.
- RESEARCH ASSISTANT / CURRICULUM COORDINATOR 2005
University of Minnesota Minneapolis, MN
Under the direction of Dr. Scott McLeod at the Center for the Advanced Study of Technology Leadership in Education (CASTLE), developed curriculum and learning modules for the Postsecondary Partners Program (P3), a consortium of higher education institutions preparing administrators to be technology leaders. Coordinated the efforts of 13 colleges to implement technology leadership into their existing curriculum. Researched examples of technology integration and disseminated that information to the partner institutions. Provided ongoing assistance to these colleges' regarding technology-related pre-service and in-service training of school administrators.

STUDENT TEACHER SUPERVISOR 2004-2007
University of Minnesota Minneapolis, MN

Provided onsite supervision to pre-service teachers giving mentorship in academics, state standards, district standards, No Child Left Behind guidelines, and professional development. As the student teacher supervisor within the Department of Curriculum and Instruction, hosted weekly seminars regarding pedagogy and how to improve the general student teaching experience. Evaluated student teachers for state licensure.

INQUIRY BLOCK FIELD EXPERIENCE COORDINATOR 2006-2007
University of Minnesota Minneapolis, MN

Served as inquiry block field experience coordinator to support the professional development of 26 students preparing to student teach the following semester. As a staff member in the Department of Curriculum and Instruction, provided onsite supervision and guidance on how to take a constructivist, inquiry approach to teaching. Gave feedback on teaching methods, pedagogy, behavior management, assessment, and lesson planning.

GRADUATE RESEARCH ASSISTANT 2004-2006
University of Minnesota Minneapolis, MN

As a graduate research assistant in the Department of Education Policy and Administration, assisted in furthering Dr. Scott McLeod's research agenda that included data-driven decision-making, school leadership, and technology leadership. Research projects included: statewide study of data-driven readiness; perceptions of human resource directors of online degrees; technology leadership in Native American schools; and elementary / high school experiences with data-driven decision making processes.

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSOCIATE INSTRUCTOR 1999-2001
Indiana University Bloomington, IN

Served as the administrative associate instructor within the Cultural Immersion Projects. Developed and assessed curriculum for graduate courses designed to immerse students in the culture and education systems of host nations and communities including the Navajo Reservation and the countries of England, Scotland, Australia, Wales, Ireland, New Zealand, Africa, India, and Taiwan. Trained four associate instructors in intercultural teaching methods. Conducted various workshops, meetings, and on-site seminars to guide and mentor student teachers participating in the American Indian Reservation Project and the Overseas Project. Also served as a student teacher supervisor where I provided onsite supervision to pre-service teachers on the Navajo Reservation and those preparing to teach overseas. Provided mentorship in academics, state standards, district standards, No Child Left Behind guidelines, and professional development. Evaluated these student teachers for state licensure.

ASSOCIATE INSTRUCTOR 1999-2000
Indiana University Bloomington, IN

As an associate instructor in the Department of Curriculum and Instruction, developed curriculum and learning materials for mandatory, upper-level, multicultural education course for elementary educators. Exposed pre-service teachers to a variety of multicultural issues such as race, gender, sexual orientation, ability, social economic status, and culture.

MATHEMATICS TEACHER 1998-1999
Indianapolis Public Schools Indianapolis, IN
As a high school mathematics teacher at Northwest High School in inner-city Indianapolis, created, developed, and implemented engaging lesson plans and provided classroom instruction to educate high school students in Algebra (levels I-III). Administered tests/evaluations, analyzed student performance, and communicated individual progress through a series of conferences and reports to parents and other members of the education team. Served on Mathematics Curriculum Council to assess and reform the district's mathematics core curriculum. Participated in a U.S. Department of Education Challenge Grant aimed to incorporate more technology into mathematics classes in urban schools.

MATHEMATICS TEACHER 1997-1998
Navajo Indian Reservation Kayenta, AZ
As a high school mathematics teacher at Monument Valley High School, taught Navajo high school students Algebra and Functions & Statistics. Employed progressive teaching methodologies and resources to enhance student achievement. Adapted curriculum to incorporate Navajo culture and meet the needs of children with learning disabilities and others with special needs. Worked closely with the technology coordinators to increase the use of culturally appropriate technology into the schools.
