Next Meeting:

May 15th, 2007 7:30 PM
The Woodworking Shop
3141 Capital Boulevard
Raleigh, NC

Several members meet 6:00 pm, at Buffalo Brothers
Pizza & Wings for dinner prior to the meeting.

Max Hayes

We have some very bad news this month. Max Hayes died on Thursday, April 5, 2007. Max lived in Sanford and was buried in Lexington, KY, so we are just getting the news.

Many of you were friends of Max and some of you only knew him only because you bought a raffle ticket from him at our meetings. But just to know Max was to love him. All you had to do was to talk to Max for a few minutes to know you were talking to a really fine person.

Max was a good friend and a real contributor to TWA. He was a member of the TWA Board of Directors, chairman of the Raffle Committee, and an active participant in our Toys for Tots program.

Max's obituary from the Lexington Herald-Leader is printed below. You can also link to legacy.com to see it. At that link you may send a note to Judy, his wife, if you would like. The club has sent flowers to his wife to express our sympathy and our feeling of loss.

Published in the Lexington Herald-Leader on 4/8/2007

HAYES Max Wayne , 69, Sanford, NC, formerly of Lexington, husband of Judy Johnson Hayes, died Thu, April 5, 2007 in North Carolina. May 15th Meeting

Cecil Raynor, TWA member and current Vice President and Program Chair of the club, will demonstrate how to make a cabriole leg. His mission will be to convince members who may be a bit apprehensive that it is really not so difficult.

June Meeting

June 19, 2007 - Solving Problems With Jigs

At the Tuesday meeting the Program will be provided by various members showing their favorite Jigs. At the Saturday workshop selected members will lead workshop participants through the process of building their own jigs.

SHOW YOUR COLORS – WEAR A TWA TEE SHIRT

They are available in all sizes – XL, L, Med, Small (for ladies and kids) and even a few 2XL.

Great value at $10 each

The Presidents Corner

The board met April 23rd. The primary subject of discussion was membership. We still want to reach a membership of 250. We are now under 200. As we approach the annual June membership sign up, the board will be contacting members who are not renewing to see if there is anything we as a club can do to keep them current members. We also voted to allow visitors only two free visits and then ask that they join to continue attending meetings. This two meeting rule is consistent with other clubs in the area.

The nominating committee for board members will be announced at the May meeting, and they will start their search for candidates. We will need three new board members. It is our practice to have members of the board accept specific assignments in addition to being board members. Current assignments available include secretary, chairman of the facilities committee, and chairman of the raffle committee. If you have any interest in the board please call me (469-9575), and I can answer your questions and sign you up if you would like to run for office.

Board members leaving the board this year are Bill Anderson, Rick Cornell and our departed friend, Max Hayes. If you have not read the separate article about Max, please do so. He was a true friend and we will all miss him.

Bill Anderson will remain chairman of the Sponsors Committee. He and Mike Payst continue to do an excellent job with the sponsors. Thanks, Bill and Mike Rick Cornell also retains chairmanship of the Newsletter Publications Committee and the Membership Committee. Both of these committees are fundamental to operation of the club and require a great deal of attention. Thanks, Rick.

Raised Panels on a Table Saw

Ah – once again, I found myself a bit short on material to even out the newsletter. So, I took a look through my files and found this “How To” that I thought might be worth sharing. It came from a website sponsored by ShopNotes magazine.

Raised Panels on the Table Saw

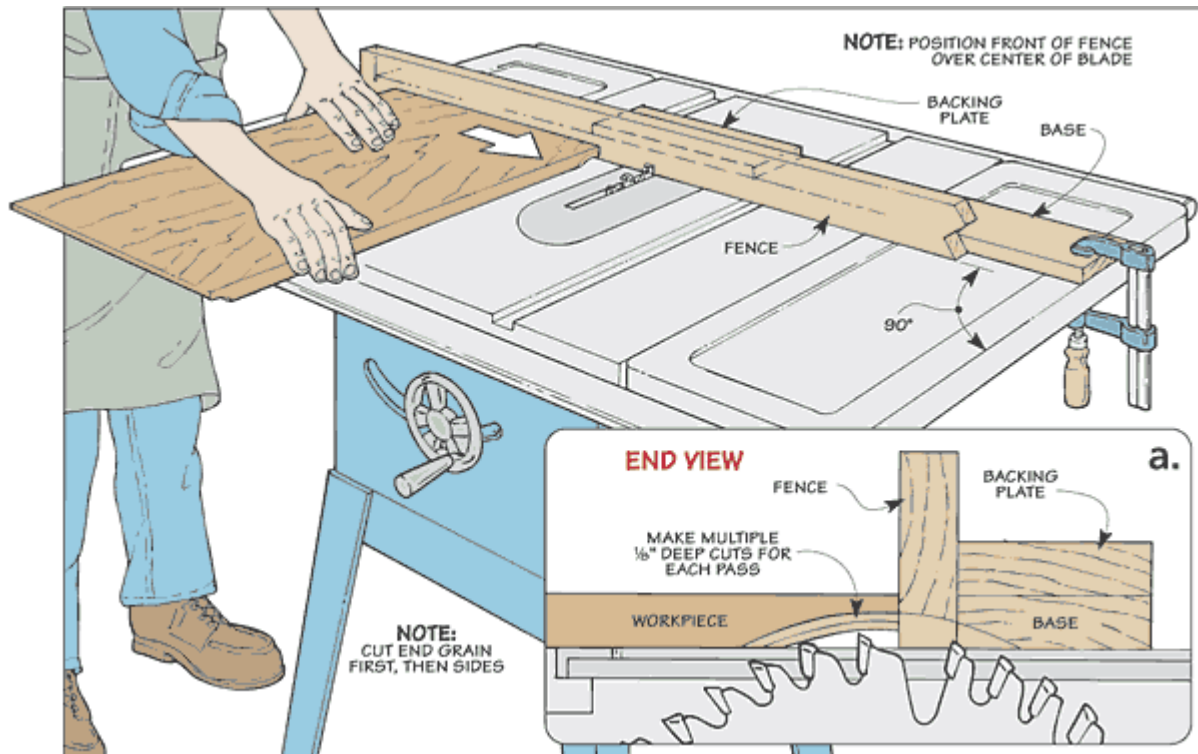

Recently, I was making a project that called for raised panel doors. But instead of a flat bevel around the raised field, I wanted to make a coved edge. Since I don't own a shaper, I came up with another method using my table saw.

The technique I use is to nibble away the waste around the raised field by taking shallow cuts. To do this, I feed the panel into the blade at a 90° angle, similar to the method used for cutting coves on a table saw, as shown in the drawing.

A simple fence clamped to the top of the table saw is used to guide the workpiece. Half of the blade is “buried” in the fence, leaving the other half exposed to create the raised panel.

Making the L-shaped fence is just a matter of gluing two pieces of hardwood together at right angles, as shown in detail ‘a.’ An 8”-long hardwood backing plate is glued over the top of the base at the center. Finally, a dado is cut down the center of the fence to create a clearance slot for the blade.

To use the fence, lower the saw blade fully and clamp the fence to the table at a right angle to the blade. (You can use the miter gauge for this.) The front edge of the fence should be positioned over arbor of the table saw.

Raise the blade 1/8” for the first pass. Hold the panel tight against the fence and flat on the saw table while feeding it into the blade. After cutting all four edges, raise the blade another 1/8” and repeat the process. By taking only shallow passes, you can safely create a raised panel with a smooth, coved edge.

Have a nice weekend,
Phil

Sponsor Highlight: Woodworker's Supply

In this issue we would like to acknowledge Woodworker's Supply in Graham. They have been a long time supporter of our club and have graciously hosted our meetings in their showroom. The store location in Graham is one of three outlets in the United States and is a regional distributor of their mail order business (800-645-9292). The Graham outlet ships to 35 states. The stores in Wyoming and New Mexico ship to the Western states. Woodworker's Supply carries 29,000 items in their warehouse and Benny sates that if something is not in stock in the warehouse, Woodworker's Supply will ship that item to the customer free of charge.

They have a very large and well-staffed showroom and a very extensive warehouse. If you are looking for something that you see in their catalog, it will undoubtedly be on site, a distinct advantage for those last minute or emergency purchases!

1125 Jay Lane, Graham, North Carolina, 27253
Phone: (336) 578-0500, Fax: (336) 578-1401

Store Hours:

Monday - Friday: 7:30 AM - 5:30 PM

Saturday: 9:00 AM - 3:00 PM

Sunday: 11:00 AM - 3:00 PM

How to get there:

From Durham, Raleigh or Greensboro: Take I-85/40 to the Graham Exit #148, go north past the Econo-Lodge, turn right on Riverbend Rd. (which runs parallel to the interstate). Follow Riverbend Rd. 0.8 miles and take a right on Jay Lane; our driveway is the first right off Jay Lane.

From Chapel Hill: take Hwy 54 west 25 miles to the interstate. Pass under the overpass, go north past the Econo-Lodge, turn right on Riverbend Rd. (which runs parallel to the interstate). Follow Riverbend Rd. 0.8 miles and take a right on Jay Lane; our driveway is the first right off Jay Lane.

The store offers members of Triangle Woodworkers Association up to 10% discount on purchases, excluding power tools.

Woodworker's Supply carries the Woodtek brand of power tools (below left) and their warehouse features many industrial level tools. They also carry many of the other major bands of power tools (below right).

Benny Page has been Store Manager for 10 years. He is interested in pen turning and has a small turning station set up in the showroom. Benny has offered to give short tutorials on pen turning to anyone who is interested and calls the store about this. John Oakley is a cabinet maker who has been working at the store for about 5 months and has an interest in electric guitar making. Raymond Byers has been there 3 ½ years, but has been woodworking for over 45 years. His interests are in guitar and dulcimer making and he also makes recurved, laminated bows. Continued on next page

Richard Fenny is a retired NYPD officer and has been working at the store for the past 5 years. He is the store "guru" on finishing.

Benny and Richard

On May 18 and 19 (7:30 am to 5:30 pm on Friday and 9 am to 3 pm on Saturday), Woodworker's Supply will have their annual spring power tool sale. Vendors will include Porter Cable, Steel City, Bosch, DeWalt, Makita plus others. Donuts, coffee, hamburgers, hotdogs, and soda will be served and there will be demonstrations on woodturning as well.

Workshop Opportunities

Our own Bill Anderson will be conducting a couple of workshops in May and June. You may wish to check these out:

Handtool Sharpening.

May 19. 9am -5 pm.
Woodcraft Store. 919-781-1911.

Learn about the many sharpening systems available to the woodworker. We will demonstrate oilstones, waterstones, and diamond stones.

There will be demonstrations of both hand sharpening techniques and power sharpening using both horizontal and bench-type grinders.

Various sharpening jigs and devices to assist in getting a consistent edge will also be shown. We will work with chisels, plane blades, scrapers, and spokeshaves. If you have a particular tool you want sharpened, bring that in.

Handcut Dovetails.

Two sessions, one day each.
June 16 and June 17. 9 am-5 pm.
Edwards Mountain Woodworks.

Find us on the internet: www.ibiblio.org/twa

You will learn to cut through and half-blind dovetails by hand; introduced to tools and jigs for layout out and cutting dovetails, learn how to trim and fit dovetails, design and layout of the joints, how to deal with loose fitting dovetails and how to repair broken or chipped dovetails in furniture. This is a skill-building workshop, not a project-oriented workshop. Call for a required tool list. Bill Anderson, phone 919-932-6050, email willardanderson@bellsouth.net.

Public Auction May 26th

Arlin Scott Liquidates His Shop...

This will be the last chance to pick up some deals. The auction will sell major tools which are a scrollsaw; a table saw, a dust collector, a shaper, and a jointer. The remainder wood, small tools, bins of stuff, and much more will be sold as one bid.

There will be a preview 12-5 PM Friday May 25
The auction will start at 9:00 AM, Saturday May 26.
Since there are so few items the auction will go fast so be on time if you want to bid.

Additional detail will be posted on the auctioneer's web site at JerryHarrisauktion.com.

Please check that site before you go. If you have any questions call Jim Ulrick at (919)960-3807.

To get to Scott's take I 40 to Exit 266 (North of Chapel Hill). Take 86 south and cross over I 40. Go by the ramp to get back on I 40 and go another 200 feet to turn right on to Eubanks Road. Proceed 1.7 miles and turn left onto Rogers Road. Proceed 1.0 mile and turn left on to Puerfoy Drive. Proceed 0.5 mile and turn right on to Sandberg Lane. The third house on the left is 8012 and you are there.
