Tuesday

Subject: Guitars & Violins
Speaker: Jon Turner

October 16th, 2012

Jon Turner is a recreational acoustic guitar builder from Chapel Hill, NC. His professional background is in computer programming for the industrial automation and metrology field. He is supported in this silly guitar making hobby by three enthusiastic kids and the World's Most Patient Wife™.

Like so many hobbies, his guitar-making efforts began as a fruit of necessity, with his desire to improve his first nearly unplayable department store electric guitar in 1980. Over the years, this simple need to put (and keep) his own instruments in good condition developed with repair and refurbishment tasks of increasing complexity. Refretting, rewiring, neck setting, refinishing, setup, etc. Eventually, the necessary skills were acquired to build a guitar from scratch, and a goal to create solid wood instruments of lasting value and timeless design was born.

Jon will discuss the craft of guitar making. Materials, equipment, tools, skills, techniques, and the numerous decisions which must be made along the way. He'll present his own approach to this fascinating hobby, demonstrate wood-bending on a specialized jig, and answer questions in an interactive session for TWA.

Host: Jeff Leimberger

Membership

2012 term ended July 31st

The response for membership renewals has been very good, however there are many members who haven't yet renewed and have now been dropped from our system.

Membership is $40.00(e-mail). Spouses are $1.00. Grandfathered hardcopy newsletters are $45.00. I plan to be at the next meeting by 6:30pm to collect payments and deliver new badges for those who have renewed.

If you wish to send by mail: Kay Baker at 610 Benfield Ct., Garner, NC 27529 Make all checks payable to TWA.

Membership Chairman:

Kay Baker

I believe there is a misconception about volunteering for positions within TWA. Volunteering does not mean that you must attend every meeting to do the job. The Chairman of your committee can tailor your contribution around your time available. Much of all committee business can be handled via e-mail.

We have a great need for volunteers, we have a few who do too much and are begging for some help. Please, Please, Please consider giving a few hours to the Club we all love so much. Talk to a committee chairman, a couple of part time volunteers equal some full time help!

Thanks so much for your consideration...

NEW MEMBER WELCOME

We welcome 3 new members this month.

 & Darrell Taylor of Wake Forest

A colored dot on a name tag indicates that the member is new, so be sure to say hello and welcome them.

Membership Chairman: Kay Baker

KUDOS to you Allen Campbell for giving of your time (again) for the Club to champion the needs of the TWA Publicity Chairman. This is a very special position and we are thrilled that Fred Ford twisted your arm to keep you busy with club activities.

Now Hiring

My plate runneth over - please help me!

In search of a few good folks who:

Care about others? Have a few minutes a month? A TWA member or will soon become one? Can you make an occasional phone call or send a card?

Hospitality Chairman - does not require a lot of time or effort, just send an occasional card or make a phone call.

DVD Library Assistant - a section of our club library that is a library within itself. The DVD is recorded at the meeting and then needs to be logged in and labeled for circulation (and possibly copied). This takes only a few minutes but it is vitally important to keep things organized and available for our members.

Steve's Shavings

The September TWA meeting will hold special memories for me in several ways. I hope all who attended expanded their knowledge of spray wood finishing presented by our own expert, Dave Bubacz (long time club member). Our audio/video equipment has been upgraded thanks to Tom Revelle, Audio Visual Chair. Did you noticed the greatly improved A/V quality? This shows the vital importance of membership dues. This was also my first meeting as your President. I greatly appreciate the support, input, and patience. My goal is to continue to make TWA a premier Woodworking Association that serves it's members and all of our vast wood-working interests.

Last month I discussed some of the reasons I joined TWA and continue my membership. This month I will add another; the overwhelming support the members of TWA give to T4T. We can take great pride and sense of accomplishment in the creation of member crafted wooden toys that will brighten the face of a child in our community at Christmas. Your gift of time, skill, material, and money is what makes woodworkers and the Triangle Woodworkers Association special.

Fall has arrived and that can only mean Christmas is coming and Santa's Helpers are busy in various woodworking shops preparing wooden treasures. Toys for Tots has been a special outreach project of ours for 27 years and has provided thousands of children in our community a special hand crafted gift. If you can donate time, money, or material, please contact T4T Chairman, Fred Ford.

Speaking of T4T, beginning at the October meeting, Pete Bucki will have a fast paced auction of 1-2 woodworking related items. Current TWA members may join in the bidding process. All proceeds are going to support the T4T program. Pete will be showing off the auction items before the meeting begins so you will have half a meeting to think about where you want to start your bidding war. All items up for auction have been donated and Pete is always looking for more so if you have an item you wish to donate to a worthy cause please connect with Pete.

Let the bidding & fun begin!

Thanks to the leadership of our newly retired president, Allan Campbell, members of TWA provided significant support to the annual NC Woodworking Showcase held at Klingspor's on September 15th. TWA members assisted with registration, judging, demonstrations, and food service. The participants ranged from Boy Scouts to professional woodworkers.

TWA Member Ed Hobbs hosted the Annual Mid-West Tool Collectors Area Q meeting. Several TWA members were seen walking the grounds of Ed's farm. Over 275 antique and wood-working tool enthusiasts were registered. Personally, I was able to obtain a much needed part for my Bedrock 607 Jointer Plane, and purchased a Bedrock 605C Jack Plane in excellent condition, along with a Miller Falls No.1 hand drill. The tool hunting was good. If you appreciate antique quality hand tools and enjoy meeting fascinating people from several states, make plans to travel down Lake Wheeler Road to Ed Hobbs' farm next year.

Fear is nature's warning signal to get busy.

~ Henry C. Link

By becoming a member of TWA you have already demonstrated your interest and desire for more knowledge about woodworking. Connecting to the Internet gives you access to a plethora of knowledge and information to advance your woodworking skills, and the good news...it is free. There are many websites related to woodworking and I am sure you have already bookmarked your favorites. I am providing my top five list in hopes that I am able to share with you and add to your current base of websites:

www.woodworking.com; Topics include, Shop Class, Specialty Woodworking (from Carving to Wood turning), Finishing, and Wood Species.

www.finewoodworking.com; While some topics require a subscription many do not and include Videos, Plans & Projects, Techniques, and a Tool Guide.

www.popularwoodworking.com; This site includes topics covering, Plans & Projects, Tools & Reviews, Videos, Sketchup, Blogs, including the ever popular and entertaining blog by Chris Schwarz, and of course Roy Underhill.

www.thehighlandwoodworker.com; The Highland Woodworker Newsletter is always of interest, as are the Videos, Tips, and Blogs.

www.woodsmithshop.com; This site contains, Etips, Videos, and Plans.

A HUGE Thank You goes out to Fred Ford and his awesome powers of persuasion. Fred has convinced newly retired President Allan Campbell to stay close to the committees by becoming our new Publicity Chairman. As you are all aware we recently lost our friend and fellow member Charles Buenzli, he was, at the time of his passing our Publicity Chairman. This committee is very important to the club as the duties and responsibilities include; maintaining a list of personal media contacts, providing notices to the media of special TWA events (such as Toys 4 Tots), and preparing news releases and background information for the media. Having this seat vacant means many things including the fact that we do not reach out to potential new members by informing folks of events they can attend and learn more about who we are. A huge Thank You to you Allan for being willing to fill this void. We are in very capable hands with you on board.

Your comments, suggestions, and recommendations are always welcome, just send me an email at; stevejsteinbeck@gmail.com.

I look forward to seeing you at the October meeting.

Now, let's go make some wood shavings,

President: Steve Steinbeck

Toys For Tots Status Report

I guess you would say we have full swing on our Toys for Tots effort. Most all of this years' Hosts have had at least one workshop. Some have had more than one and there are still a few firsts to come in the very near future. I am very excited to see the commitment and enthusiasm that is happening, it is very heart warming.

The ongoing workshops are;

 Terry Tenhouse is making knick-knack boxes in his workshop. There are usually six workers in attendance.

 George Mills and Cecil Raynor are hosting in George's shop, making doll beds on scale for Barbie dolls. There are usually six workers in attendance.

 Bob Gabor is hosting in his shop, making tote boxes and 500 Fiat cars. There are usually five in attendance.

 Sue Eckard, Diane Philyaw, & Fred Ford are jointly hosting 4 workshops in Creedmoor (this is the late Bill Eckard's shop). We are making Volkswagens, (1,116 at the first 2 events), and will be making Bears, (big and small ones), Pinocchios, and Bob & Betsy Bobsy cars during the final 2 events. There are usually fourteen in attendance.

 Alan Campbell is hosting our Klingspor's event this year making Volkswagens. The plan is for 500 or more with fourteen members in attendance.

There are currently thirty-three people taking part in workshops. Most have attend multiple workshops, some as many as five. I would love to see more people coming into the program to help share the load and make even more toys for the children.

If you are new to the club or or if you are old to the club you would be most welcome and encouraged to join the mighty thirty-three. You would be surprised what even a half day of your volunteer service would do. Not only would it increase the number of toys we share, but it would give you a feeling of great peace knowing you helped out and you would spend time with other club members getting to know them. I just do not see a downside to volunteering a few hours.

Just give me a call and I will get you involved and you too can enjoy your Christmas morning knowing you have made the morning brighter for hundreds of children all over the area.

Halloween

A short history

Halloween was not a popular observance in early United States history, as most of the early settlers were Protestant. At the time, Halloween was considered mostly a Catholic, Episcopalian, and Pagan holiday, and therefore largely ignored. In the southern colonies, such as Virginia and Maryland, there were some Halloween customs observed. The first common events were called "play parties". These parties got neighborhoods together to celebrate the harvest, dance, sing, tell stories of the dead, tell fortunes, and have pageants for children in costume.

By the mid 1800's, immigration increased, and many Irish immigrants, mostly Catholics fleeing the potato famine, brought many Halloween traditions with them. Jack o'lanterns found a new face, the pumpkin, which was very plentiful in the New World. Catholics and Episcopalians sought to preserve their traditions, so started an effort in the late 1800's to popularize and make their holidays known to the general population. By campaigning to put these holidays (Halloween and All Saints Day) on public calendars, magazines and newspapers started to publicize these holidays, and soon became popular in the United States more as a community and family holiday, rather than one of great religious and supernatural importance.

By the mid twentieth century, Halloween turned into a secular holiday, community centered with parties city-wide, parades, and great costumes. Halloween is mostly aimed to children, but young and old enjoy this holiday, with events and parties for both children and adults. Starting in 1950, the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) started a campaign for children to collect money at Halloween for underprivileged children around the world. Halloween is the United States' second largest commercial holiday, spending approximately $6.9 billion a year.

Meeting Minutes

SEPTEMBER 2012

The meeting came to order at approximately 7pm with President Steve Steinbeck presiding.

Steve welcomed new members and guests to the meeting.

Announcements:

- Fred Ford, Chairman of the Nominating Committee nominated Kay Baker, the clubs Librarian to be a Member at Large of the Board of Directors. The nomination was seconded, and a vote taken. Kay was unanimously elected to the board.
- Fred was called on again to give a progress report on this year's Toys 4 Tots program. Fred spoke of the need for volunteers for the next workshop to be held at Sue & Diane's

"From ghoulish and ghosties and long leggety beasties and things that go bump in the night, Good Lord, deliver us!" ~Scottish saying

Toys for Tots Workshop with George Mills hosting.

Some Luckily little girls are going to love these!

We have met twice to build 50 Barbie doll beds, Monday 9/24 and Wednesday 9/26, in addition to some preliminary material preparation by some of us before-hand. All the head and footboards are routed and need sanding, the mattress supports are complete. We still need to make bed rails and do final assembly. A friend of Cecil's even made mattresses and comforters for the beds.

Regards,
George Mills

shop. He also gave an account of the toys that had been produced so far. In the girls workshop alone we are currently over 1000 toys with many more to come. Other shops are reporting numbers that are giving Fred great pleasure. This year is looking to be a good year of giving.

- Pete Bucki ran the raffle for the Workshop 3000. Pete reported that only twenty-one tickets had been sold. The winner was our newly retired President, Allan Campbell. Congratulations Allan!
- Pete announced that next month he will be holding an auction for some of the tools that have been donated for the benefit of the Toys 4 Tots program. Be ready with your bidding skills, this promises to be fast paced and fun.

Program:

This month's program was on spray finishing and was presented by Dave Bubacz. Dave, a long time member, and the owner of his own woodworking business had prepared a slide show of some of his work. He described how he prepared and finished each project. He reviewed the equipment required and the techniques used in applying the finish. He emphasized the need to follow all the safety standards to avoid fire and/or the danger of an explosion.

We have received a request from former club member Danny Levenson for help in clearing his shop. Sometimes in ones' life we take a path that leads us to different interests. That is what has happened to Danny -- his love for woodworking has been overtaken by a love of photography. I would assume it is easier to vacation with a Nikon versus a Porter Cable. Danny has taken a couple of years in making his decision to sell his beloved woodworking tools. He would rather see them being put to use rather than collecting dust and cobwebs. Danny is struggling with pricing his machinery -- while he's not looking to make money he would like to receive a fair price -- totally understandable. Please leave a message for Danny if no one answers when you call or send him an email.
