'Athletes who accept the privileges of their profile can't then divest themselves of the responsibilities'

Indian singer Arnie B gives Shane Warne a spin at music charts

HE'S got a successful sporting career and a beautiful woman on his arm, but Australian cricketer Shane Warne is now hoping to conquer the music charts.

Indian musician Arnie B has released a song about Warne, called "King of Spin," to coincide with the launch of the cricketers clothing range on the subcontinent.

With lyrics including, "He's got the cool Aussie style, with the funky profile. You just follow the Twitter king," the Bollywood-style song also features Warne himself throwing in a few cricketing phrases, such as "howzat" and "caught and bowled".

Warne tweeted that the song was getting "played everywhere" in India, where he captains the Rajasthan Royals in the Indian Premier League.

The 41-year-old, who is dating British actress Elizabeth Hurley, challenged radio stations in Australia to get on the bandwagon and play the track.

The song can be downloaded from www.spinnersbyshanewarne.com.

Warne will be hoping he can mirror the success of former Australian teammate Brett Lee.

The NSW fast bowler teamed up with Indian music diva Asha Bhosle in 2006 to record a duet called "You're The One For Me", which peaked at number two on the Indian and South African charts.
