Not content with his success on the cricket field, Aussie spin star Shane Warne is now hoping to conquer the music charts.

India musician Arnie B has released a song about the spin bowler, titled "King of Spin," to coincide with the launch of Warne's clothing range on the subcontinent.

With lyrics including, "He's got the cool Aussie style, with the funky profile. You just follow the Twitter king," the Bollywood-style song even features Warne himself throwing in some cricket terminology, such as "howzat" and "caught and bowled."

Warne tweeted that the song was getting "played everywhere" in India, where he captains the Rajasthan Royals in the Indian Premier League.

The 41-year-old, who is dating British actress Elizabeth Hurley, challenged Aussie radio stations to get on the bandwagon and play the track.

Warne, considered one of the greatest spin bowlers of all time, will be hoping he can mirror the success of former Aussie teammate Brett Lee.
