Prez SezMarvin Askins*It feels like the 1960's all over again!

For those of us who can remember, the 1960's were exciting when it came to automobiles. Every September many of us had something other than the end of summer vacation and the return to school on our minds. We had the introduction of the new cars in the auto dealers' showrooms. This also meant that almost every manufacturer had its share of high performance cars. Although they were offering them before 1964, like the Mercury Comet Caliente, Falcon Sprint, the 1963 ½ Ford 406, 390 and 427s, the Mustang was introduced as the first "Pony Car" in April 1964. As you know it came with the 225 hp 289 4 barrel or the high performance 289 K code with solid lifters and 271 hp! Those were the days when every manufacturer kept increasing their horsepower and it continued until 1970 with Cobra Jets, Boss 302's Boss 429s and Mach 1s. You could buy right off the floor or order your horsepower and take it to the street or the track. If they weren't fast enough for you, there were always performance goodies that you could buy from Ford or any of the other marquees for you to go faster. These horsepower wars ended at the end of 1970 due to high insurance rates and the oil crisis. Fast forward. Since the inception of the restyled Mustang in 2005 its horsepower increased from 200 to 310 hp for its 6 cylinder (to 2014) and the 8 cylinder to 420. In 2007 the GT500 was reintroduced with 500hp. Then in 2010 its horsepower was increased to 550hp. Two years ago it introduced the 662hp Shelby that ruled the hp wars for American vehicles through 2014. Currently Ford is back in the fray offering the 4 cylinder, 6 cylinder and 8 cylinder Mustangs, all with adequate horsepower. If that is not enough, Ford is coming out with the GT350 and GT350R with its flat crank killer aspirated engine putting out northward of 500hp. And word on the street is that for 2017 a new GT500 will be introduced with 747 hp!

Can you say "Here Kitty, Kitty Kitty" to Chrysler's Hellcat?
It feels like the 1960's all over again but with more horsepower!

The 2014 SJMC Holiday Party.....Keith DiPace

The SJMC Christmas Party 2014 was held at Masso's Red Pine Inn in Glassboro NJ on the first Saturday of December. As in the previous year the employees and staff were courteous and professional!

The Food from my opinion and others that I have spoken to agreed that it was well prepared and very tasty. From what I witnessed there was enough food for all that attended!

The entertainment of the Grinch game was fun and very entertaining! The game was Emceed by Keith DiPace, and as usual was very professional, and from the feedback from various other members, was very entertaining and made the game fun. Keith's decision to have the kids that were present at the festivities help with calling out the numbers was great and added to the fun and gave the future younger members a feeling of involvement!

There were of course donations of canned goods and toys for tots. From what I saw there was a decent amount of canned goods and toys for tots, of course the the donations are appreciated!

In closing, I have knowledge from good sources that we will be going back to Masso's Red Pine Inn this year 2015. Personally I can't wait to see every one throughout the Car Show season and at the Christmas Party!

The Red Pine Inn was very festive!

The Grinch tables were full of gifts!

2015 Mustang Event PlannerHerb Sharp

As Mustang Enthusiasts, 2014 was a banner year for us as we celebrated the 50th Anniversary of the Mustang's debut at numerous events both locally and nationally. Now if you are like me, we're into 2015 and haven't made any plans yet, but are looking for some events to attend this year. Well I have been searching and these are a few events coming up that may be of interest.

May 1-3 NMRA Ford Nationals

The National Mustang Racing Association returns to Maryland International Raceway the first weekend of May with exciting all Ford racing action along with a huge Manufacturers Midway, an SVT Shootout event, a burnout contest and a large all Ford car show. This is the closest stop to our area for the NMRA tour, so if drag racing is your interest, this might be the event your looking for!

June 5-7 Carlisle Ford Nationals

Without a doubt the largest Ford event in the country is only a few hours from our area, the Carlisle Ford Nationals. Held the first weekend in June, this event will be celebrating 20 years in 2015. In addition, there will be a 60th Anniversary Celebration of the Thunderbird, 50th Anniversary of the Ford GT and the Shelby GT350. The wealth of activities that happen each year at the event include the Ford Ride and Drive, celebrity autographs, seminars, Sunday autocross, the burnout contest and Saturday night parade.

July 13-19 Mustang Week

Mustang Week is an event that should be on every Mustang fan's "Bucket List". Held in the heat of July at various locations in the Myrtle Beach South Carolina area it offers something for everyone. Car cruises, autocrossing, drag racing, a burnout contest, car shows and social activities take place on different days throughout the week. In addition to the Mustang events, there are plenty of other things to experience in the Myrtle Beach area.

August 20-22 SAAC 40

SAAC returns to our area with SAAC 40 to be held at Pocono Raceway prior to the Indycar Race on August 23rd. SAAC Conventions consist of plenty of OnTrack time, Concours and Popular vote car shows, a manufacturers midway and swap meet.

This Mustang aficionado was a little skeptical about the new 2015 Mustang. Ford may have missed the mark on styling, pulling cues from the Fusion for example. Still, it was early in the game. The design was just released, and we had not seen one in person yet. The 50th Anniversary in Charlotte would be our first face-to-face meeting. It was a good experience. The car looked really nice in person, and all of the styling seemed to work well together. Fast forward to October for Ford's Bucket List Challenge at Citizens Bank Park. That was my first opportunity, not just to look, but to drive a new 2015 Mustang! I was Shocked at the power and performance of this little turbo 4 cylinder!!! That, in combination with the new styling and options, put this new Pony over the top! Needless to say, the cars.com site was about to see some increased traffic... My wife had mentioned her fondness for a black on black version, and I was now determined to find her one. The goal was to have it in the driveway on Christmas morning with a big red bow on top! I think she likes it....

Harry's Corner

Hi fellow members! I have been approached by our newsletter editor, Herb Sharp, to write an article as Vice President for our club newsletters. So here goes, let's start with a little history of why and when I joined. Before purchasing my first Mustang in April of 2008, Carlene and I were officers in a Golden Retriever Dog club and competed at the highest levels with our dogs. With the experience with that club and its members, it drew us to join a Mustang club to become more involved with car people, shows and events. So in late 2008 we joined the SJMC. Our very first club event was the 3 Dog Garage tour and the president was Dave Wible, what a coincidence, I'm not related to Dave and there were no DOGS at the Garage. Carlene and I can honesty say we are proud to be members and involved with this club. We enjoy all that this club stands for and I'm looking forward to writing articles from my perspective as your VP.

Harry "Leadfoot" Wible
