

ADHD AWARENESS MONTH SUMMARY REPORT 2007.

November 12, 2007

ADHD Awareness Month was held in September 2007, in Windsor Ontario, Canada. The Local planning Committee consisted of

- Sharon Burey MD. FRCPC., Behavioural Pediatrician
- Bev Clarke, Executive Director Learning Disabilities Association Windsor Essex County
- Greg Trepanier M.Ed., Psychological Services Greater Essex County District School Board and President of CHADD Canada
- Joseph E. Casey, PhD Assistant Professor, Department of Psychology, University of Windsor
- Alison McInnes, PhD, Faculty of Education, University of Windsor.
- Kay Curtis, Pediatric Read Program

The objectives of this local initiative were to raise the level of awareness about ADHD and its comorbidities in schools, among parents and teachers, and the public at large. This was achieved by organizing the following events. These events were sponsored by an unrestricted educational grant from Jansen Ortho Canada Inc. and Shire BioChem., Eli Lilly Canada, Casino Windsor Cares.

This was an exciting and innovative year as the ADHD Awareness Committee partnered with The Learning Disabilities Association of Windsor Essex County to offer a state of the art two-day workshop entitled, LD, ADHD a lifetime of success.

Please see our website at www.adhdwindsor.com for the workshop presentations.

Schedule of Events

Media Coverage.

- 3 day paid advertisement in the local paper,
- CBC am 1500, and CKLW am 800
- Interviews by members of the committee
- We were able to maintain a web page that provided information in a timely manner. Thank you Chris!

This was indeed an exciting month to raise awareness about ADHD and Learning Disabilities in our community. It was tremendously rewarding to see the support of Local School Boards, especially the Special Education Departments, Children's Mental Health Agencies, The University of Windsor and Dr. Tam Doey. These collaborations mean that the future of ADHD, Learning Disabilities, and Mental Health in Windsor is indeed BRIGHT.

Sincerely,

Sharon Burey MD. FRCPC. FAAP
