NB: During 2011-2014, I served as Vice Dean (Academic, JD English Program). Because of the administrative demands of that post, I was not able to maintain the typical tempo of my research activities.

List of Publications

Scholarly books:

^R Craig Forcese, Destroying the Caroline: The Frontier Raid that Reshaped the Right to War (Toronto: Irwin Law Books, 2018), 350 pages.

[#] Craig Forcese & Kent Roach, False Security: The Radicalization of Canadian Antiterrorism (Toronto: Irwin Law Books, 2015), 612 pages (equal share of responsibility between the two co-authors)

^R Craig Forcese, National Security Law: Canadian Practice in International Perspective (Toronto: Irwin Law Books, 2008), 653 pages.

[#] The book stemmed from the authors' public policy involvement in the debate over Bill C-51, Antiterrorism Act 2015. It builds in part on discussion papers listed below under "Reports" and posted online (www.antiterrorlaw.ca) as an "open source" form of "realtime" academic scholarship. On top of comments generated through this process and more generally through extended discussion and debate in the winter of 2015, parts of the resulting book were circulated for feedback from specialists, some of whom are acknowledged in the preface and in the quoted comments on the book jacket.

^R Signifies peer review either anonymously ("R") or by book editors ("R by editors).
