Catalog Description

This course explores how people gathered for worship are formed by God’s story of redemption through songs, word, and sacraments, then sent to participate in God’s mission of reconciliation. The content, structures, and styles of worship are viewed from biblical, theological, historical, and cultural perspectives. Through activities such as inquiry into the Christian year, the exegesis of congregational songs, and exploration of various worship practices, students learn to plan and lead worship so that worshipers can situate their own stories in God’s story.

Course Narrative & Rationale

Worship plays a significant role in the Christian formation of both a congregation and an individual. The effective pastor must facilitate authentic worship for the sake of the spiritual vitality of the people who look to her or him for leadership. The key to effective worship leadership is not in what is performed for the congregation by the leader, but in how the congregation is equipped and resourced to express themselves to God through corporate worship as facilitated by the leader.

In this course we will consider worship from biblical, theological, social, and aesthetic perspectives, then seek to embody that deepening understanding in and through worship planning and leadership. The content, structure, and style of worship will be the focus of an in-depth probing of various worship models. This exploration will be accomplished through readings, discussions, experiences, and assignments. Worship planning skills will be developed, especially in the selection of the songs a congregation sings. The culminating project will be a personal statement of the student’s own theology and leadership of Christian worship.

Course Assignments & Requirements
1. Online Interaction (300 points) (Outcomes #1-#8)
Posting to a discussion forum and reading the posts of others is the online equivalent to attending and participating in class during an on-campus course. In the online environment, interaction between students and the professor and among students is essential for a profitable learning experience.
- Students are encouraged to read posts nearly every day.
- Students in an online course are required to write a quality post at least three days each week. Students who do well in the online environment are engaged more often.
- A quality post is one that begins a new topic, is a critical reflection on another person’s post, or moves the discussion in a new direction.
- Unless otherwise assigned, posts in a forum should be at least 100 words for a new topic and at least 50 words for a response to another’s topic.
- Correct grammar and accurate spelling are expected.
To get a discussion “rhythm” going in an online class it is more helpful to have smaller pieces over several days than one large piece on one day. In addition to making an original post, respond to the responses to your original post to stimulate the online conversation.

In your posts for the conversations on the textbooks, be sure to make reference to what the author says. Include page numbers when appropriate. Similarly, refer to specific ideas you find in a lecture when you post in a forum. The goal in these instructions is to help you fully engage with the course materials.
Assessment of online participation will be recorded at the end of each unit. (45 points each for units 1 and 5; 70 points each for units 2, 3, and 4)

2. Components for Worship Planning (50 points) (Outcomes #4, #6)
Experience with two components of worship planning will be completed. A collect will be written and submitted during Week 6 (10 points). Song Review Worksheets—two each week for a total of four—will be required in Week 10 and Week 11 (20 points each week).

The student will have the option of doing a worship planning assignment as the summative learning activity for Units 2, 3, and 4. Details are provided in the next section.

3. Unit Reflection or Worship Plan (275 points) (Outcomes #2, #5, #6, #7)
A summative learning activity is due at the end of each of the first four units. A personal theological reflection paper is required at the end of Unit 1 and is an option for the other units. These brief reflection papers are intended to help the student begin formulating a personal theology of worship to be dealt with in greater detail in the final paper. A worship planning assignment might be completed instead of the personal theological reflection paper for Units 2, 3, or 4. Specific instructions for each worship planning assignment will be provided at the top of the main page in Moodle. Please note, all songs used in the worship planning assignments must be from the Sing to the Lord and/or All the Best Songs for Praise and Worship collections; see the Recommended Texts above. Rubrics will be used for the grading of these assignments.

- Unit 1: Write a 2–3 page personal theological reflection paper on insights you gained from the material covered in this unit. You might consider focusing on the importance of God’s story in worship. (50 points)
- Unit 2: Option 1 is to write a 3–5 page personal theological reflection paper on insights you gained from the material covered in this unit. You might consider focusing on the role of Scripture in worship or important biblical themes that inform worship. Option 2 is to prepare a thematic worship plan in a sermon-oriented format; specific instructions will be provided. (75 points)
- Unit 3: Option 1 is to write a 3–5 page personal theological reflection paper on insights you gained from the material covered in this unit. You might consider focusing on the place of the sacraments in worship or the benefit of following the liturgical year in telling God’s story. Option 2 is to prepare a “Word and Table” worship plan in a sacrament-oriented format; specific instructions will be provided. (75 points)
- Unit 4: Option 1 is to write a 3–5 page personal theological reflection paper on insights you gained from the material covered in this unit. You might consider focusing on the role of congregational singing in worship. Option 2 is to prepare a song sequence in a song-oriented format; specific instructions will be provided. (75 points)

4. Worship Visits (225 points) (Outcomes #2, #3, #6, #7)
The student will visit three worship services (his/her usual place of worship cannot be used for this assignment). Instructions for these visits will be available the first week of the semester. Each visit is worth 75 points.

- One visit will be to a congregation in the sermon-oriented tradition where the preached word is central. The report is due on Monday of Week 5.
- One visit will be to a congregation in the sacrament-oriented tradition where the Eucharist is central. The report is due on Monday of Week 9.
- One visit will be to a congregation in the song-oriented tradition where worship in song is central. The report is due on Monday of Week 12.

The paper on your worship visits must be a theological reflection of the experience, not merely a subjective “I liked this, but didn’t like that.” You may begin with a description of the service, but must fully explore the content, structure, and style of the service. Questions such as “Whose story dominated the service?” and “Where was God’s presence most expected or experienced?” should be considered. Please see the instructions at the top of the main page in Moodle for specific information on the worship visit and the report. The paper should be 3-5 pages long.

6. Final Paper (150 points) (Outcomes #1, #2, #3, #6, #7, #8)
The summative work for this course will be a 10- to 12-page paper on My Theology and Practice of Worship. The paper is due on Friday of Week 14. See the grading rubric for more information on how the paper will be assessed. There will be three sections in the core of the paper.

- Theology: what you believe about the content, structure, and style of worship.
- Pastoral Strategy: an assessment, in light of your theology, of your current place of worship and how you might encourage a more profound encounter with God through corporate worship.
- Pastoral Leadership: key elements to how you plan and conduct worship.

Course evaluations will be available in the final two weeks of the course at the bottom of the main page in Moodle. Please complete the evaluation; your insights will help improve future offerings of the course.

<td>The discussion of the Van Dyk text will be done in two parts and will use the case study. It is very important that class discussion about the theology be well underway (Wednesday and Thursday) before moving to the practical matters (Friday and Saturday). By Wednesday, post at least one theological issue raised in the assigned Van Dyk chapter that speaks to the case study. If you identify a second theological issue, please start a new thread. On Friday, post at least one comment about a pastoral issue you see in the case, especially insights in how the pastor in the case might embody the theological issues in the case. After making your posts, respond to the posts of others. By Sunday, respond to the responses to your original post. (Outcome #2)</td>

Lecture
- “Free-flowing” Praise and Worship Planning. (Outcomes #4, #5)
- John Wimber and the Five Phase Model. (Outcomes #4, #5)
- Tabernacle/Temple Model. (Outcomes #4, #5)

Forum & Assignment
- As you finish your work on this unit (no later than Sunday), you will either prepare a Personal Theological Reflection on Unit 4 (3–5 pages) (Outcome #2) or prepare a five-phase song sequence according to the instructions distributed earlier (Outcomes #5, #6, #7). If you do the theological reflection paper, you might consider focusing on the role of congregational singing in worship. See the grading rubric for a description of how to structure the paper: identify an issue from a lecture and/or reading, reflection on the issue, and your own perspective on the issue. Upload the assignment in two places: the forum will allow for peer interaction and the assignment link will put make it available to the professor for grading. After posting your assignment, respond to the posts made by your peers.

Online Interaction
- The unit grade for online interaction will be posted following this week. (70 points)

Course Evaluation
- Please complete the course evaluation. You’ll find a link at the bottom of the main page in Moodle.
